Talbott Interest Remains

Senate Inquiry Said Still Open to Hear Secretary's Stand On Other Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said today a Senate inquiry is "still open" into a profitable business interest which Secretary of the Air Force Talbott has offered to give up if the senators think he should.

Talbott told the Senate Investigations subcommittee yesterday he has reaped no "improper" profit as a partner in the New York efficiency firm of Paul B. Mulligan & Co., some of whose clients hold government contracts.

He said his "special partnership" in the firm pays him more than $50,000 a year. McClellan put it at $60,000. The Air Force secretary's salary is $18,000.

At Talbott's request, the subcommittee hastily arranged the public hearing late yesterday. It adjourned without giving any official reply to the secretary's request that it say whether he should relinquish his interest in the Mulligan firm Aug. 1.

McClellan, the subcommittee chairman, set no date for another session in the inquiry into the propriety of the arrangement and into hints that Talbott had used his official position to further the firm's interests. Talbott said he had "certainly not" done so.

Declaring that "the finger of suspicion" has been pointed at him by some newspapers in a manner that "I don't think I deserve," Talbott gave a company-by-company report on his contacts with clients of the Mulligan firm.

"There is no question that I have tried to be helpful to Mulligan," Talbott testified. "I have."

But he said this help involved no "influence, pressure or preference" and insisted: "I don't think I have done anything improper."

But if the senators think such action "is to the advantage of our U.S. Air Force," he pledged, "I'm going to give it (the partnership) back to Mulligan. I'm not selling it."

Reports Seeing Men Leave Auto Of Slain Veteran

BULLETIN

LIVINGSTON, Ill. (AP)—A St. Louis taxicab driver today was charged with the murder of Bobby Carr, 24-year-old St. Louis salesman whose body was found stuffed in the trunk of his car yesterday.

A warrant charging Bobby Davis Martin with murder was issued by Fred P. Schuman, Madison County state's attorney.

Martin was arrested last night in an apartment where the victim's wife had been living since her separation from Carr a week ago.

LIVINGSTON, Ill. (AP)—Police have found a witness who reportedly saw two men get out of Bobby Carr's automobile on an East St. Louis parking lot the night he was slain.

The body of Carr, 24-year-old St. Louis salesman and Korean War veteran, was found stuffed in the trunk of his car yesterday—the third person to be killed and hidden in a car trunk in the St. Louis area in recent weeks. He had been stabbed in the heart and shot four times.

Mrs. Carl Read, mother of the victim and operator of the Winston Hotel in St. Louis, told St. Louis police her son left home Tuesday to see some man to "get this thing straightened out."

An Old Style Fades

Once in a while you see a woman walking down the street and carrying an umbrella to keep off the sun, but it's a rarity that seems peculiar when you see an old picture of Sedalia years ago wherein almost every lady carries a parasol.

Partly cloudy with little change in temperature tonight and Saturday. Scattered thunder showers likely Saturday. Low tonight in lower 70s. High Saturday in 90s.

The temperature was 71 degrees at 7 a.m.; it was 99 at 2 p.m.

The temperature one year ago today, high 97, low 78, with .10 inch of rainfall; two years ago, high 89, low 70, with .76 inch of rainfall; and three years ago, high 94, low 76.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks 58.0 steady.

Dr. Charles Bell Trader

Dr. Trader Dies Thursday At Bothwell

Was Well-Known Sedalia Physician For Past 48 Years

Dr. Charles Bell Trader, 85, prominent Sedalia physician for the past 48 years, who resided at 1717 West Third, died of a heart condition at the Bothwell Hospital at 8:50 o'clock Thursday evening. He had been in failing health for several years and retired from practicing about two years ago because of his condition. He had been confined to the hospital since Tuesday, July 5.

Dr. Trader was born July 14, 1870, in Sedalia, the son of the late and well known physician, Dr. John W. Trader, and Mrs. Matilda Hope Batterton Trader, of Danville, Ky. He was named for the distinguished English surgeon, Sir Charles Bell, who was host to his father while Dr. Trader was attending the World Medical Congress, as a delegate from the State of Missouri, held in London, England, in 1887. He was one of a family of eight children.

Dr. Trader graduated from the Kansas University Medical College in 1901. He married Miss Marion Tuck Batterton of Danville, Ky. in Memphis, Tenn., June 25, 1902. He was associated with Homer McWilliams of Kansas City until 1907, when he returned to Sedalia to take up the practice of medicine. He has resided in Sedalia since that time.

Mrs. Trader preceded her husband in death on April 29, 1942.

Surviving him are his daughter, Miss Frances Ware Trader of the family home on West Third. He is also survived by three brothers, George H. Trader, president of the Sedalia Democrat Co., 1220 South Barrett, Randolph Foster Trader of Kansas City, and Emmett E. Trader, of Corpus Christi, Tex. His two sisters, Mrs. Hattie Belle Fletcher, and Mrs. Clara Hope Schien, both of 614 South Kentucky.

Two brothers preceded him in death, Arthur Montgomery Trader and John W. Trader.

At the time of his death Dr. Trader was Division Surgeon for the Missouri Pacific Railroad having served with the Missouri Pacific since 1912. During this time he was in charge of the medical service rendered in the three major disasters which struck the railroad. (Please turn to page 2, Column 2)

Give Test for Hopeful Hiway Patrol Members

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The State Highway Patrol is giving examinations to nearly 200 men who want to become uniformed state patrolmen.

Under a new law, effective Aug. 29, the patrol can increase its uniformed strength from 320 to 355. In addition to those 35 new officers the patrol also is seeking about five men to fill vacancies.

The men chosen at the end of the examinations will be trained intensively and then will be put on probation for a year before they are given regular jobs.

Keep Pressure On Adams For Contract Story

Persuasion Will Be Used Before Force Tactics Employed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee kept pressure today on Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams for "the full and true story" of his role in the controversial, canceled Dixon-Yates power contract.

Persuasion rather than force apparently will be the sole means of applying pressure on President Eisenhower's No. 1 White House aide.

Asked if a subpoena had been considered, Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.) of the Senate Judiciary subcommittee told reporters:

"Frankly, I don't think we can subpoena him. We are going to try this first." The "this" was a strongly worded letter the three-man subcommittee on antimonopoly matters rushed to Adams by messenger yesterday asking him to reconsider his refusal to testify.

Adams could not be reached for comment.

The subcommittee said Adams' written refusal yesterday was the fifth instance of a claim of privilege by executive department officials that they cannot be required to give information to the subcommittee.

"In these circumstances," the subcommittee said, "a claim of privilege is tantamount to suppression of evidence of possible crime and corruption. Not even the privilege of attorney-client can be used for such a nefarious purpose."

"Certainly officials of the government itself cannot and should not assert privilege where the result would be the suppression of evidence which would show corruption and deception in a matter involving millions of dollars of public funds."

Russian Press Tells Ike's Inspection Plan

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press published today, without comment, President Eisenhower's proposal for an exchange of military information and aerial inspection between the Soviet Union and the United States. The press also prominently displayed the European security plan and the proposed ban on atom weapons, as presented at the Geneva conference by Premier Bulganin.

Premier Suggests New Plan

French Chief Asks Compromise Among Eden, Ike, French Ideas on Armament

GENEVA (AP)—Premier Faure of France circulated a draft resolution today calling on the Big Four to launch a disarmament program under an effective United Nations control system.

French officials reported his resolution provides for reciprocal inspection of military installations inside the Big Four countries and for joint East-West inspection of arms and armies in certain defined areas of Europe.

The French plan appeared designed to marry President Eisenhower's, Prime Minister Eden's and his own projects for halting the arms race and cutting back the piled up weapons of the great power blocs.

The President yesterday offered to swap military blueprints with Russia and suggested the two countries agree to a system of mutual air inspection to insure fair play.

Eden proposed at the same meeting that teams of East-West inspectors supervise operation of a little disarmament program in a defined area of Europe, running from south to north along the Iron Curtain.

Faure called for an agreed cut-back of arms spending by the big powers, and investment of funds thus saved in a combined project to raise living standards in the underdeveloped areas of the world. He also outlined a system of disarmament supervision through budget disclosures, subject to checking.

Missouri Pacific Offers New Plans To Federal Judge

ST. LOUIS (AP)—U. S. District Judge George H. Moore has under advisement today the motion to confirm the new "agreed system plan" for reorganization of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Co., bankrupt for 22 years.

Proponents and objectors of the plan completed their testimony yesterday. Still pending are three appeals from the plan in the U.S. Court of Appeals.

The objections were voiced by representatives of the common stockholders of the New Orleans, Texas & Mexico Railroad, a Missouri Pacific subsidiary, who argued the plan didn't give them all the representation in the new corporation to which they were entitled, and holders of Missouri Pacific 3 1/2 per cent serial bonds, who argued that stockholders voted on the plan without holding a required meeting.

The two objecting groups were the only ones among the railroad's security holders to fail to give overwhelming approval to the plan in a recent election held by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Approve Mississippi River Control Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Public Works Committee today approved a bill which would authorize a 123-million-dollar project to protect St. Louis from Mississippi River floods.

The project involves construction of levees, dikes, and pumps along the St. Louis river front.

Are Confident Can Beat Try At Budget Cut

Administration Men Confident They'll Pass Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration supporters in both parties voiced confidence they can muster enough votes to beat down new moves to slash President Eisenhower's foreign aid budget in the Senate today.

Sen. Clements (D-Ky.), acting majority leader, held out hope that if the calendar of routine bills was cleared and the aid bill passed, a Saturday session he originally had planned might not be necessary. Congress has been hoping to adjourn about a week from now, but House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts said yesterday it won't hit that target.

The President asked Congress for $3,266,000,000 to give military and economic aid to America's friends in the current fiscal year.

The House whacked $627,900,000 from his request but the Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday voted to put back $566,600,000, recommending a total of $3,205,000,000.

Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts, the assistant Republican leader, said in advance of the debate he was confident the committee's position would be sustained. While Democratic leaders made no public predictions, it was evident they too expected the Senate to follow generally the committee's restorations.

However, Sen. Ellender (D-La.) told a reporter he would strike at two of the biggest restorations. He said he would move to knock out of the bill 420 million dollars for worldwide military assistance.

Different Licenses On Same Patrol Car

WEST PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—Would you notice if you had different numbered front and rear license plates for three years?

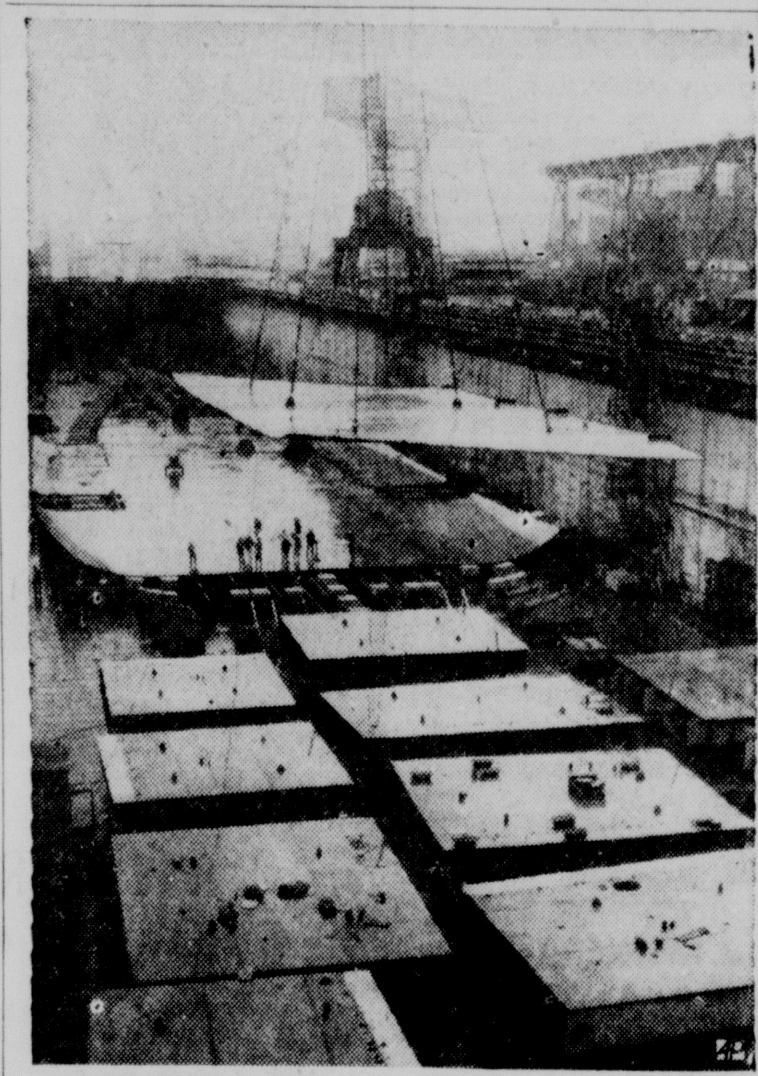

Patrolman Carl Von Stetten, borough marshal, didn't.

He discovered recently that his front plate was his normal registration, YF26W, but the rear plate was YF27W.

The Motor Vehicle Department theorized there had been an error in wrapping the five-year plates in 1952.

Von Stetten tracked down the man who had registration YF27W—George Mackey of Boonton Turnpike, Lincoln Park—who hadn't noticed his odd set either.

Nixon Presides--

President's Cabinet Talks About Big-4 Meet Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's cabinet discussed the Big Four conference at a 2 1/2 hour meeting today.

Vice President Nixon who presided, told reporters the cabinet members were briefed on Geneva developments by Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover, Jr. Hoover attended as representative of Secretary of State Dulles, who is with the President at Geneva.

Nixon said the cabinet got a summary of the briefings he has been getting from the State Department daily and relaying to congressional leaders.

In addition, Nixon said, there was discussion of "the reactions noted up to this time" to Eisenhower's offer to let the Russians photograph from the air this country's whole defense establishment if the Soviet Union would extend the same privilege to the United States.

The vice president said the reactions of both the Russians and other nations around the world to Eisenhower's offer came under discussion but he gave no details.

West Side Variety Burglarized Early Friday Morning

The West Side Variety Store, 718 West 16th, was burglarized sometime early Friday morning by thieves, who ransacked the store, picking over the merchandise.

The breakin was discovered by Mrs. Georgia Keele about 9 a. m. when she opened the store. She reported it to the owner, Richard Battles. After a check of the store, the robbery was reported to the police.

A basement window on the east side in the rear of the building had been pried open and the catch snapped from the window, thru which entry was made.

A tentative list of articles was reported missing and a more complete check is being made to ascertain if other articles are missing. The thieves obtained school supplies, Christmas cards and Christmas lights, a dozen baseballs, flashlight bulbs, a Daisy Red Rider BB gun, and some BB shots; caps for a cap gun, several softballs, several tobacco pipes, fishing tackle, assortment of cigarette lighters, pocket knives, watch bands, leather gloves, scissors and a small amount of change.

Police are making an investigation.

Ministers Still Working Out Other Issues

Report Some Gains On All Three Items But Ask More Time For Them to Study

GENEVA (AP)—President Eisenhower today urged Soviet Russia to tear down the Iron Curtain and permit freer exchange ideas and travelers between East and West.

American Press Officer James C. Hagerty said the heads of government at their session instructed their foreign ministers to continue their discussions of three other problems—Disarmament, German unification and European security—until they are able to bring back a report to the Big Four.

The top leaders met an hour later than usual today to give the foreign ministers more time in their efforts to come up with a solution on those matters.

Hagerty said Secretary of State Dulles reported progress on all three items at the foreign ministers' meeting, but told the Big Four more time was needed for study by the ministers.

Hagerty said also that Premier Bulganin's proposal for a nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and the Warsaw pact organization was discussed today.

The ministers resumed their discussion of that matter and the three other agenda items after the Big Four concluded their session.

In his first account of what happened at the summit meeting, Hagerty made no mention of any discussion of the President's dramatic proposal yesterday that the United States and Russia exchange military blueprints.

At today's summit conference, Eisenhower and French Premier Faure opened discussion on the fourth item on the formal agenda—improving contacts between East and West.

On this matter, the president called for:

1. Removal of barriers he said are impeding the interchange of information between peoples of East and West.

2. Elimination of barriers to permit greater travel for friendly and peaceful purposes.

3. Creation of conditions to encourage exchange of goods for peaceful purposes.

Eisenhower also spoke of improving international radio communications. He said that, in some cases, there had been extreme forms of interference with such communications.

The Big Four arranged to hold a restricted meeting tomorrow morning. Hagerty said each delegation would have about four persons at that session, instead of the usual 10.

The President was said to be definitely committed to leave tomorrow evening for Washington and the summit conference was running far behind schedule.

The four foreign ministers went back into session this afternoon. A three-hour session this morning failed to complete final recommendations to the heads of government on any of the three problems under discussion.

One informed source said the President's proposal was not specifically mentioned at the morning session. This meant that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had not given a hint as to whether Russia would accept the plan or even promise to consider it further.

Some quarters saw a possibility that the Eisenhower proposals might get shunted aside, along with other proposals on disarmament, German unification and European security for discussion after the summit conference.

Kiwanis Club Sees Pictures About Europe

During 18 months service with the army, Robert Van Horn, member of the Sedalia Democrat news staff spent part of that time in 13 countries of Europe. He took many colored still pictures of his historic scenes. Thursday he showed these pictures with verbal descriptions to members of the Sedalia Kiwanis club at their meeting in Bothwell Hotel.

Van Horn was introduced by the Rev. Lee F. Soxman, program chairman who spoke the invocation.

Abe Rosenthal led in singing with Miss Lillian Fox piano accompanist.

Past President Charles Hanley was honored for his service to the club and 12 years' perfect attendance by introduction at the head table.

President Jack Crawford announced that arrangements were being made for local members to attend a district inter-club meeting in Rolla on occasion of the return to that club of the traveling scroll. Also, next Thursday he said the Sedalia club would be hosts to eight airmen and eight non-commissioned officers from the Sedalia Air Base when they receive certificate of merit. This will be the first such program in a series sponsored by the Civic Club Council and individual service clubs.

Guests Thursday were: Joe Archias with his father, L. H. Archias Jr.; Fred Gembler, Des Moines, with his brother-in-law, Guy Bailey; William Jackson, new manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. district office, formerly of Denver, with A. H. Wilks; and former member Dan Drew, now of Indianapolis, with Jack Crawford.

Evangelical Ladies Circles Hold Meetings

The following ladies circles of the Immanuel, Evangelical and Reformed Church met this week.

The Mary Martha Circle met with a covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. Adolph Witthaus, Route 5. There were 16 persons present with three children. Six guests attended, those being the Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Klemme, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. George Dabner, Mrs. James Dietzel and Mrs. R. H. Hill. The devotion was led by Mrs. Hersel Bremer, at which time she gave a talk on the Knots Berry farm. Mrs. Cloyce Wilson gave the topic in which she gave an article on the Mayes Home at St. Charles. Mrs. Charles Smith is a new member of the circle.

The Ruth Circle met at the home of Mrs. Floyd Knerl with a dessert luncheon. Mrs. Tom Gray, Jr., was assisting hostess. Mrs. Oscar Oehrke gave the devotion for the afternoon and Mrs. Harley Vaughn gave the topic, "I Believe," by Nevin Horner in which the members discussed "Why Do the Righteous Suffer?" There were ten members present along with Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Klemme.

The Dorcas Circle met at the home of Mrs. Ernest Liebel, 1500 East Seventh, with Mrs. Earl Barnett as assisting hostess. There were ten members and the Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Klemme. Mrs. Lottie Miesenhimer gave the devotion.

For the program Mrs. Ernest Liebel talked on the Fulbright and Harris Bills, after which a discussion was held. Members decided to write to their congressmen.

Ex-Clinton Man Dies In Marine Plane Crash

CHERRY POINT, N. C., July 21 (AP)—A Marine F3D Skyraider fighter plane burst into flames and crashed into a beet field near this Marine Corps air station today killing the pilot and a crew member.

Second Marine Air Wing headquarters identified the dead as Lt. Col. John E. Reynolds, 37, of Clinton, Mo. and Cpl. Anthony P. Mayo, 22, of Revere, Mass.

The station public information officer said several persons reported seeing the plane trailing flames as it nosed downward near Minnescott Beach, eight miles east of here. It was on routine training flight. The plane was attached to Marine all-weather training squadron 20.

Reynolds, a veteran of both World War II and the Korea conflict, came here only a month ago from the Marine air station at Quantico, Va. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mildred Frances Reynolds, and two small daughters who live at nearby Havelock. His mother, Mrs. Ada Reynolds of Clinton, also survives.

West German Arms Bill Gets Approval

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's first rearmament bill for the buildup of West Germany's new 500,000-man defense force won final parliamentary approval today.

The Bundestag (upper house) swiftly passed two bills authorizing the government to call up the first volunteers this year and creating a permanent civilian committee to screen the appointment of all senior officers.

The bills now go to President Theodor Heuss for signature. They were approved by the Bundestag (lower house) last week.

Today's vote cleared the way for Adenauer's government to take the first steps toward building up the 12-division army, 1,300-plane jet air force and coastal defense navy pledged to the Atlantic Alliance.

Dr. Trader

—In the highway-train wreck of New Year's Day, 1929, the steam explosion at the Sedalia Shops in 1934, and the Ottaville train wreck of 1948. He was highly commended by the Missouri Pacific officials for his efforts on these occasions.

During World War I he served as examining officer of the Pettis County Draft Board for over one year, then was commissioned a captain in the Medical Corps of the U. S. Army in August of 1918. He was placed as commanding officer, Medical Corps, of Camp No. 2, or Camp Republican, a tent camp of 17,000 soldiers, Camp Funsten, Kan., during the influenza epidemic of 1918. Very few of the 17,000 men in the camp escaped having influenza in this severe epidemic which swept through all army camps from Sept. 1918 to the summer of 1919.

Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood personally commended and honored Dr. Trader for his handling of the epidemic at Camp Republican. He was commissioned a major in June of 1919, and served until November of that year. He was a member of the American Legion, Post 16.

He had held at various times all offices in the Pettis County Medical Society. He was vice-president of the Missouri State Medical Society in 1925, and vice-president of the Missouri Pacific Medical Association composed of 600 doctors in 1934. He refused the presidency of both organizations because he said speech-making was not along his line. For seven years he served as secretary of the Bothwell Hospital staff and was instrumental in placing the new hospital on the accredited list of American Hospitals (Please turn to Page 4, Column 1).

He received his pin for fifty years in the practice of medicine in April of 1931 at a banquet given by the Pettis County Medical Society. His only hobby was quail hunting which he enjoyed until four years ago.

Dr. Trader was a Mason, being a member of St. Omer Commandery No. 11 Knights Templar, Sedalia Chapter 18, Sedalia Council 42, and No. 236 A.F. and A.M. His grandfather, Rev. Moses Trader was presiding elder of the Methodist Episcopal Church and Dr. Trader was baptised in that faith, but attended the Broadway Presbyterian Church of this city of which Mrs. Trader was a member.

The body was taken to the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel. No funeral arrangements have been made pending word from relatives.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at McLaughlin Funeral chapel with the Rev. R. C. Williamson officiating. Masonic services will be conducted by Sedalia Lodge 236 A.F. and AM at the chapel.

The body will be taken to Kansas City for cremation after the services.

Police Reports

Mrs. J. W. Askey, Jr., 1808 South Missouri reported to the police her son Kennard Askey, 13, was bitten by a dog. The owner of the dog was not known nor was a description of the dog obtained. Dr. Donald Proctor treated the youth.

Mrs. Archie Shireman, Houstonia reported to the police the loss of her purse containing $7. She reported that apparently she left it lying on a counter while shopping in Looie's store and a man described as between 45 and 50 years old was believed to have picked it up.

Two windows at the Jolly Welding Co., 508 West Second, were found open by the police. A neighbor locked them for the owner.

A window on the west side of the Sedalia Farm Center, Main and Vermont, was found open by the police. The officers closed the window.

Police Court

Franklin D. Case, 2023 South Grand, charged with unnecessary noise with a motor vehicle, forfeited a $10 cash bond.

Joseph J. Hoke, Star Route, Smithton, arrested for careless driving at Broadway and Fifth, appeared in police court Friday morning and pleaded guilty to the charge. He was fined $25 by Judge R. L. Weinrich.

Paul Fiedler, Route 4, Sedalia, charged with running a stop sign at Main and Missouri, forfeited a $5 cash bond.

James P. Helfer, Dresden, charged with parking in a loading zone, forfeited a $2 cash bond.

Princess Sues Hubbie For American Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Princess Fatehah of Iran has sued for divorce from the American commoner who drew the wrath of her brother, the Shah.

The princess, 26, youngest daughter of the late Shah Muhammad Riza Pahlavi, contends in her suit, filed yesterday, that Vincent L. Hillyer, 30, treated her cruelly and caused her "great mental suffering and anguish."

She asked for custody of their son Kayvan, 3, and for clear title to a $100,000 ranch in Madera County, Calif., claiming she bought it with her own funds.

Hillyer, now an importer, and the princess were married at Civitavecchia, Italy, April 13, 1930. The young Shah expressed disapproval of the union but later forgave them.

YOUR MONEY

Is it safe—and is it really working hard for you?

As any experienced businessman will tell you, part of your earnings should go into a savings account which is not subject to market fluctuations. When you open an account, look for two basic things: One is safety. The other is a good return on your money.

Where are you sure to get both of these things? In an insured Savings and Loan Association! More and more prudent Americans now choose to put their savings in these Associations because: Your money brings excellent returns in these Associations which invest most of their funds in sound, steady-paying home mortgages. Your money is safe. It is protected by sound management and substantial reserves. It is insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation—an agency of the U. S. Government.

You really owe it to yourself to get acquainted with the insured Savings and Loan Association nearest you!

No wonder this Hardtop is the HIT OF THE YEAR!

IT'S 4-DOOR HANDY

—and priced for action!

This one you'll just have to see.

It's a beauty. It's a brand-new kind of car. It's a Buick Riviera with four doors. And to top it all—it's a SPECIAL—the lowest-priced of all Buick Series.

Know what that means?

It means you can have the newest hit in hardtops—the most advanced new body design yet—and you can have it in the price range of America's smaller cars.

It means you can have a steel-roofed car with the long, low, sweeping sportiness of a convertible—with no center posts in the side window areas—and with two separate doors to the rear.

And you can have all this hardtop beauty with sedan comfort and convenience at the easy-to-take modest extra cost of a 4-door model over a 2-door model.

But if you think that's all—listen:

This gleaming grace of automobile is a Buick through and through—a '55 Buick, from the hottest-selling line of Buicks in all history.

So here you have the soft, firm steadiness of Buick's all-coil-spring ride and torque-tube stability. Here you have Buick brawn, Buick solidity, Buick handling ease, Buick styling and visibility and interior luxury.

And here you have the lift and life of vigorous new V8 power of record might—and coupled to the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Why wait a day longer—when you can come in right now and try the first true hardtop with the extra comfort, room and convenience of a full-sized 4-door sedan?

Drop in tomorrow, first thing—for a look at the price, and an idea of the whopping-big trade-in deal our huge sales volume permits us to make.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick build today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

Are Sprays A Hazard? . . .

Recently we discussed the hazards to children chewing paint on furniture. This stimulated a woman north of town to comment on this in a four-page letter and to amplify her own fears of food poisoning.

By discussing the matter she seemed to take a weight off her shoulders even though she closed, "Sincerely, Worried."

She seems to think that people ought to read the paper more, pay less attention to soap operas and television and suggests a line be written about poison on and in our food, although she's afraid this might bring down the wrath of the chemical spray companies and also the doctors. But it would be in the interest of the health of the people and a great service, she says.

Now there are many dangers of food poisoning, especially during these hot summer months of picnics and potato salads, spoiled meats, etc. People get mighty careless about proper refrigeration.

However our correspondent is anti-pathetic to sprays and mentions that even Drew Pearson commented on the deadliness of some sprays a year ago.

We don't altogether agree with her blaming everything on sprays when she says: "Was there ever a time in your lifetime when as many people were ailing? (In spite of the wonder drugs, etc.) She recalls a doctor writing some months back that if you eat a light lunch you get seven or eight poisons; a full balanced meal, as many as twenty.

"There was a very enlightening article in a national magazine July, 1951, on the subject," she says, "but since there were no semi-nude women's pictures, or no sexy headlines, I fear many readers passed up the article."

A few weeks ago she says she read where the Pure Food and Drug Administration approved only one spray although around 300 sprays and chemical ingredients are used in and on our food.

"I have lived in California in the grape and dried fruit country area, also Arizona," she mentions, "and they have gotten their eyes open some out there. But so many think of quantity instead of quality. I was in Fresno County in 1946-47. Around that time they changed the spray and manner of fumigating their dried fruit. A newspaper article said: 'We know this type will kill all insects and larvae, but what effect it will have on people we don't know—time will tell.'

"I've wondered for years if the Reds aren't working this way to disable us. We were in Fresno county when a man had his olive orchard sprayed. It killed thousands of sheep five miles distant. Still we don't only eat it, but the air is full of it. About a year ago, there was an article in your paper which warned people of chloradane. I understand this is used in restaurants, hospitals and also cleaning establishments, also in most fly and bug sprays and some soap powders, and now it even penetrates the skin.

"I never thought the day would come when I would relish the sight of a worm on food, but now it makes me very happy because I can toss the worm away and know the rest of the food is not poisoned if a live worm can live on it."

She says a magazine article suggested many polio cases might be traced to spray poisoning and chemicals used in food and water by overdosage. Even breathing sprays may be harmful.

"My! If this keeps up the Russians will have it fine — people will only be physically and mentally fit for slaves and there will be a modern home and new car for all of our conquerors. God have mercy on the gullible Americans," she concludes.

So what's all this hullabaloo about the dangers of atomic and hydrogen bombs wiping out our civilization; or Sedalians becoming slaves of progress when we've got spray trouble all around us?

Anyhow the spray slant on life expectancy is something to consider and at least furnishes a substitute worry for the hot weather season and what the Geneva conference may bring forth as a palliative for bomb fears.

Now if you care to pursue this subject further, glance across this page to Dr. Jordan's column and read his comments on precautions against DDT.

Eisenhower Doesn't Love French Premier

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — There have been times at Geneva when President Eisenhower must have wished the French Premier, Edgar Faure, had stayed home. He slapped the Frenchman down in public yesterday.

Faure, because of his performance, is the strangest figure at the conference although apparently far overshadowed by Eisenhower and the British and Russian Prime Ministers, Eden and Bulganin.

Twice—with his proposals on disarmament and European security—he seems to have set Eisenhower's teeth on edge. Americans at Geneva made it clear Eisenhower neither joined in Faure's ideas nor was happy about them.

The one on European security played into the Russians' hands before they said a word. And the Russians quickly seized on Faure's ideas about disarmament, saying they were worthy of consideration.

Just how and why Faure decided to go off into left field, away from Eisenhower and Eden, is not clear. A member of the American delegation told reporters the three men had gone over their opening speeches together although not in detail.

The Frenchman, insecure in his job as prime minister, may have been talking for the benefit of politicians at home. One French source said Faure's proposals showed a dash of daring in his makeup.

But if the Big Four's daring was to be the measure of their statesmanship and vision, they could just as well go climb an Alp.

Faure went to Geneva as part of the Western team with Eisenhower and Eden. On Monday, the opening day, he was the second speaker. He followed Eisenhower who, at that time, went no further than this on disarmament:

The Big Four should work out an inspection system to prevent cheating in any arms cut. Yesterday

Eisenhower followed this up by suggesting the United States and Russia exchange blueprints on their arms and permit mutual aerial checks.

But on Monday Faure followed Eisenhower with a proposal that disarmament might be achieved by budgetary controls. The Russians, with their kind of government, could conceal arms spending better than the West, if either side cheated.

And yesterday, as if to show how little he thought of Faure's idea, Eisenhower told Bulganin in front of Faure: The United States hasn't yet found a way in which budget figures can be used as a sure way to control disarmament.

Returning to Monday: Faure

also envisioned an all-European security system which would absorb, meaning abolish, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the West's military alliance against Russia and its chief hope of defense.

The United States and Britain have insisted on keeping NATO. Russia has long demanded it be abolished. So Faure made about as big a concession to the Russians—before they opened their mouths in Geneva—as he could make.

And when Bulganin did speak he called for an all-European security system and the end of NATO. He went into more detail than Faure. But both men's ideas on that point wound up in the same place.

DDT Generally Harmless But Precautions Are Wise

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

It is probably well known that DDT is a chemical substance developed during the war as a poison against the insect enemies of man. It has been an extremely effective weapon in the battle against many insects though some, like the common house fly, seem to develop increased resistance to it as time goes on.

When first introduced there was considerable fear that DDT might be rather poisonous to human beings as well as to insects.

It is true that there have been some cases of acute poisoning of human beings by DDT but these have been few and far between.

There also have been some reports of less dangerous reactions of DDT of the nature of skin irritation, disturbances of the blood, and some other conditions.

DDT is used either in powder form or is dissolved in a liquid such as kerosene and used as a spray.

Apparently, the powder is not likely to produce harm either to a person's skin or even if inhaled. When it is dissolved in a liquid, however, either the DDT or the liquid can be harmful to the skin or irritating to some persons when inhaled.

It would seem good practice for no one to inhale a spray containing DDT in any larger quantities than absolutely necessary. Probably someone handling such a substance constantly should wear some kind of a mask.

Also, direct contact of a liquid DDT preparation with the skin should be avoided. Finally, DDT preparations should not be swallowed and should not be left in reach of small children.

The value of DDT in attacking lice on human beings and, therefore, cutting down on the danger of lice-borne diseases such as typhus fever has been well proved.

It has been concluded recently that DDT is a safe material under actual conditions of use. Although DDT is frequently found in food and is stored in our fat, there is no reason to believe that the amounts involved are injurious to the human body. Apparently human beings can withstand a good deal of exposure to this chemical and the health hazards from it seem slight indeed.

From a practical standpoint, persons who use DDT should be careful to follow directions given for the particular preparation as supplied by a reliable distributor. If someone is engaged in using DDT or other chemical containing insecticides as part of their work, professional advice on the desirability of masks or other precautionary measures should be obtained.

Proposes Briefing On 'How to Behave Abroad'

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Democrat-Capital
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — America's No. 1 clubwoman urges "compulsory" briefing for every U.S. citizen going to a foreign country to offset the bad impression American tourists, often unconsciously, make abroad.

That was uppermost on Mrs. Theodore S. Chapman's mind when she returned from the first international convention of the general Federation of Women's Clubs in Geneva and the following European tour made by some 351 members.

President Chapman hasn't worked out just how tourists would go about getting these briefings. "Of course it's easy to arrange for a large group to be officially informed by Government officials in Washington," she said, adding that the Federation has issued some "Do's and Don'ts of travel."

Roughly this proposed briefing would fall into two categories: behavior becoming an American in a strange land; and knowledge of American foreign policy and how it applies to each country. Here are some deplored things a few Americans do abroad:

Chew gum. Men in noisy sport shirts and women in slacks appear in Cathedrals. Assume every taxi driver or store keeper is overcharging. Brag that everything American is bigger and better. Compare everything with "back home." Ask for "Southern fried chicken" in spaghetti-country. Assume careless disparaging remarks will not be understood if spoken in English. Speak in loud strident voice. Overload with junk jewelry. Make fun of the Continental breakfast of hard roll and coffee and scream for ham and eggs. Tell people "all you are interested in is the American dollar." Say "what a funny way of doing things" when it's only different.

Mrs. Chapman smilingly admits it probably would be easier to brief tourists on American policy and give them salient facts about each country than to teach manners and "just plain every day politeness."

The Defense Department tried to do both to make our GIs overseas good ambassadors. It was done with tiny guide books with a bit of history, and something of local customs along with some hints on how to win friends. After World War II the State Department inserted a pamphlet explaining the Marshall Plan inside of each passport. Maybe that's one way Mrs. Chapman will specifically advocate.

Then our popularity rating with travel agencies might crawl up from the bottom. At present travel agencies agree Americans are the most difficult and British the easiest with Germans a close second.

Looking Backward . . .

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Prof. A. V. Ludewig, of Central Business College, in a communication to The Democrat, writes interestingly of a tour of several states in Old Mexico he has been taking.

1930
Ray Ragar, while pitching a baseball game at Green Ridge Sunday, fractured his right arm just below the shoulder bone when the bone snapped as he was delivering a fast one to a batter. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Ragar.

1930
Misses Rosalie and Mayme Hanlon, 1114 West Fourth, left Tuesday by automobile for a short visit in Kansas City.

1930
Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Thompson and daughter, Virginia, and son, Bob, 403 South Park, who have been on a five-week auto trip through the south and on the west coast, have returned home and reported a most enjoyable trip.

1930
Marshall Hall, who resides on a farm nine miles south of Sedalia in the Spring Fork neighborhood, has completed threshing 40 acres of wheat which averaged 31½ bushels an acre and tested 63.

1915
H. E. Agee, LaMonte, was a business visitor in the city Monday.

1915
John W. Menefee, Jr., and wife and Mrs. Harvey MacGugin motored to Houston Sunday afternoon.

1915
C. O. Howe, Ionia, was in the city Monday morning and left during the early forenoon for a business visit at Platte.

1915
Johnny Moore, who played Pedro Maupone May at the Rex Billiard Parlor last winter, will play Johnny Layton of Sedalia, 100 points three-cushion billiards in two blocks of 50 points each Tuesday.

1915
Sedalia has received its first jitney bus. It arrived Monday morning and is the property of H. A. Decker, who has already placed the bus in operation.

Odds and Ends

By News Staff

THE WOMAN had three children—two boys and a girl. The girl married and moved to another state and one of the boys married and went a long ways off to live. The other son went some place in the East to work for the summer and wrote home about the girls there.

"Don't you fall in love with one of those girls and marry her," his mother wrote him. "There are so many nice, pretty girls in Sedalia, that when you marry I want you to marry a Sedalia girl and live here — not marry somebody way, way off and stay in the East."

A short time later the mother received a beautiful postcard of Niagara Falls. "Up here for a few days," he wrote, and then added, "On my honeymoon."

The mother was just crushed. That was what she was afraid of—he had fallen for one of those girls in the East and married her. That meant he would stay in the East and not come back home. She was upset to no end and finally she got the card again and reread it—this time she noticed something different after the word honeymoon—it was "Ha ha." He was just teasing her and she had been too upset to notice. It was certainly a big relief but it will be a bigger one when he returns back home without being in love with a girl from the East—if he does.—H.L.

Mankind's Hope Is Abolition of War

GENEVA — Overlooking this lakeside city where the peace of the world is being discussed are the same Alps over which Hannibal brought elephants in what was then the most modern war ever fought by man. Elephants were the first conception of the modern tank, used to trample foot soldiers, and since then man in each century has developed new and more fiendish instruments of death progressing from the crossbow and cannon to atomic artillery and the hydrogen bomb.

During the latter part of man's increased mania for self-destruction, the tiny Alpine country which is host to this conference "at the summit" has managed of necessity to remain out of war. It has managed because of the grim realization that war meant annihilation.

So perhaps the Big Four meeting here could draw a lesson from the perfection of weapons since Hannibal's time and from Switzerland's grim determination to avoid war. If they don't draw it, other people will do it for them.

For all this week as Eisenhower, Bulganin, Eden and Faure sat around the conference table there have been unseen observers looking over their shoulders.

Those observers are not merely the young men who will meet death if war comes and the mothers who brought them into the world, but also present, peering over the shoulders of the Big Four, is another uninvited observer — the atomic scientist.

Actually, no atomic scientist is in Geneva specifically for these parleys. Though they contrived the means of wiping out civilization, no atomic adviser was invited to sit on any delegation staff. But in advance of this conference they expressed their ardent plea to abolish war.

No Defense

For they know what few others know: that a nuclear war might set off a chain reaction which could burn up the atmosphere of the entire earth's surface. They know that cobalt bombs, if released a hundred miles off the Pacific Coast, would wipe out all vegetation in a belt 500 miles wide across the United States. They also know that Russia has exploded a dozen or more nuclear weapons. They know what President Eisenhower suppressed last May: That Russia had exploded a hydrogen weapon just as powerful as the Bikini H-device which caused so much havoc at Bikini.

They also know that Russia has secret bases near the Franz Josef Islands inside the Arctic Circle from which could be launched guided missiles to blow up any American city. They also know that guided missiles able to speed over 3,000 miles per hour are now able to fly between New York and Moscow in two hours. They know that, against them, there would be absolutely no defense. And they know that, when their profession can devise a hydrogen warhead for these missiles — which they can't today — then Moscow or New York can be blown up in toto merely by pushing a button.

They also know that man, in his desperate desire to protect himself and his fiendish desire to kill others, already has devised preliminary plans for stationing rocket platforms or bases in outer space. They know that tiny, man-made stars or satellites officially called "minimum orbital unmanned satellites of earth" — or

"Mouse" for short — already have been devised to whirl around the earth's surface at a speed of 17,000 miles per hour to serve as the watchdogs against guided missiles.

That's how far man has progressed since Hannibal's time in devising instruments to exterminate himself.

Groping For Peace

As a young newsman I accompanied Frank B. Kellogg, secretary of state under another Republican President, Calvin Coolidge, to Paris to sign a treaty to outlaw war. Kellogg, of course, was ahead of his time. He realized the horrors of war and negotiated a treaty to outlaw war, but he lacked two important things necessary to make his treaty effective: (1) the bargaining power to make other countries relinquish their weapons of war, and (2) world realization that another war meant the end of the world.

Just before Kellogg came into office his predecessor, Charles Evans Hughes, had thrown away America's chief bargaining power — battleships. We were then the world's greatest battleship power and we junked them for a treaty which meant great political hay but lost US the power to force disarmament on other nations.

Today we have that power. We haven't thrown or bartered away our huge stockpile of atomic bombs—at least not yet. And we should not—any more than neutral Switzerland will take the supplies of munitions and food out of her mountain warehouses until real world disarmament is within sight.

Finally, there's the world-wide realization now — perhaps even among the Kremlin leaders so belligerent in the past and so insurmountable today, who seem almost amateurishly groping for peace — that modern war would mean the end of mankind. So perhaps the atomic scientists who, looking over the Big Four's shoulders here, urging that we outlaw war aren't so far off base after all.

Wings of the Future

It is no far-fetched idea that the grandchildren of today fancy themselves riding in helicopters instead of the automobile or aeroplane. The new Piasecki helicopter is practically a luxury liner, capable of carrying nineteen passengers. The new commercial model has twin motors, perched at front and back of the fuselage and driven by a single piston engine, making it easier to deal with the center of gravity problem than on a plane with one overhead motor. Passengers will be able to stroll about the Piasecki H-21—and sit where they please without having to be assigned seats according to their avoirdupois.

It won't be long now before folks will be saying — "I have to catch a helio across town" — or "I have to helio up to the lake for dinner."

Missouri Synod Approves Record Church Budget

The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod this week approved a budget of $12,900,000 for the fiscal year 1956, a record-breaking rise of 42 per cent over the 1955 budget of $9,000,000.

Six hundred representatives of the synod's 32 North American districts met at Concordia College, St. Paul, Minnesota, for the week-long conference of officials and fiscal leaders of the church body. Rev. Walter F. Strickert, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, represented the central Missouri area.

Missions in North and South America will receive $1,370,000, plus $120,000 in capital funds. Foreign missions will get $1,125,000, and $175,000 for construction of buildings. Negro missions in the United States and Africa will receive $214,000 for operation, and $100,000 in capital funds. Work among the deaf is allocated $205,000, and spiritual work on college and university campuses will get $52,000. An additional $200,000 will go to mission agencies.

The church's nation-wide television series, "This Is the Life," is given $750,000, and $250,000 will go to the Church Extension Fund, for loans for the erection of new churches.

Three million dollars will go for training of clergymen and teachers. The synod conducts the most extensive system of parochial schools in American Protestantism. In addition, $1,675,000 will go for building construction at seminaries, teachers' colleges and preparatory schools.

Stewardship and missionary education is allotted $205,000, and parish education comes in for $137,500.

Administration will draw $140,000, and financial administration and general expense will be given $776,000. Funds given standing and special committees stand at $68,700.

Earlier in the joint conference, prayer was offered for the Geneva, Switzerland, "summit" talks on world peace, and conferees sent a cablegram to President Eisenhower through the synod president, the Rev. Dr. John W. Behnken, assuring him of the prayers of the assembled body.

Ban Johnson Standings Change--

Chiefs Regain Fourth Place Tie As They Drop Moberly Thursday

Boonville Loses First Game 7-5 As Brookfield Ties, Though Idle

The Sedalia Chiefs moved back into a fourth place tie in Central Missouri Ban Johnson League standings Thursday by defeating the Moberly Miners on their home field 8-3.

The Chief's position was also helped as the Boonville Cadillacs slipped back into third place after losing to Mexico, the former cellar dwellers, who also changed places with this victory.

The chances are that after tonight's game the Chiefs will hold third place by themselves as the Brookfield Bombers with whom they are tied for fourth position, play the first place Columbia team which has no losses for the second half of the season.

Should the Brookfield Bombers win their game with Columbia they would tie Boonville for third place and Jefferson City would take the league lead leaving Columbia second.

League Standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Columbia	3	0	.1000
Jeff City	2	0	.1000
Boonville	2	1	.666
Sedalia	2	2	.500
Brookfield	1	1	.500
Moberly	1	3	.250
Mexico	1	3	.250
Marshall	0	2	.000

Sunday's schedule includes a game here with the Chiefs facing Marshall and Brookfield at Mexico.

Game time for the local tilt will be 8 p.m.

The Chiefs and the Miners passed up the first frame without scoring, but the Chiefs came back in the second with two runs.

Mines left off with a single and after Burton was out on a fly to the third baseman Fall singled and both runs were driven in on a single by Case.

Three more Chief tallies came in the fourth inning as Fall singled,

Blair and Welch Start Match Play In West. Amateur

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Young golf stars from the South, headed by medalist Don Bispilghoff, monopolize today's opening 36-hole match-play round in the Western Amateur golf tournament.

Bispilghoff, of Orlando, Fla., led seven survivors through a grueling 72-hole qualifying trial by rounding out a 70 yesterday for a total of 276, eight under par for the rolling Rockford Country Club course. The 20-year-old North-South amateur champion faces Bob Brue, 20, Milwaukee long-shot, in the lower bracket of man-to-man combat on the tight 6,500-yard par 72 course.

Hillman Robbins of Memphis State takes on defending champion Bruce Cudd of Portland, Ore., in the featured upper bracket match.

Two other matches complete the field of eight. Alex Welsh of the host club squares off against husky Jim Tom Blair of Jefferson City, Mo., in another upper bracket sizzler.

Eddie Merrins of Meridian, Miss., recent champion of the Colonial Invitation at Memphis, meets Rex Baxter of Amarillo, Tex. Baxter is the youngest in the group, 19, and barely qualified with 283. Welsh, an attorney, gave Bispilghoff a great fight for medalist honors before taking one over par 5s on the last two holes to finish with a 68 and 279 total.

Moose Schedule Play With The Adco Blues

The Moose club and the Adco Blues, both members of rival leagues in the Industrial League will meet in a special game at the 16th and Center diamond tonight at 8 p.m.

The clubs being in different leagues of the Industrials have never played before and are expected to provide a fine game for the spectators.

Sterling will start for the Blues and St. Cyr will be on the mound for the Moose.

'Sugar Ray' Sees His Comeback Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Boxing fans across the nation get another chance tonight to see whether Sugar Ray Robinson was right in trying to make a ring comeback.

Robinson takes on Rocky Castellani, No. 1 contender for the middleweight title, at 8 p.m. (CST) in the Cow Palace ring in a scheduled 10-rounder. The telecast and radio broadcast will be carried by NBC.

Neal took base on a fielder's choice and Case homered scoring the three two runners already on base.

The next three Chief runs came in the seventh as Higgins and Barbour singled and were driven in on a home run by Larry Mines.

The three Miner tallies came in the last of the ninth. Sedalia 020 300 300—9 11 Moberly 000 000 003—3 2

Industrial League--Monday Night Teams Fight For Top Spot

The Hamms' Beer club streaked around the bases eight times Thursday night at Housel Park as they submerged the Meadow Gold club 8-1, allowing the creamery boys only three hits.

Corley was the winning pitcher and Barnes took the loss for Meadow Gold, allowing four hits. Two of the Meadow Gold hits were by Combs the centerfielder, who made one of them good for the single tally on a home run and singled with his other hit.

The brew boys took half of their tallies in the top of the first and spread the others out with two in the second and one each in the third and fourth.

The creamery boys took their lone run in the last of the fifth. Hamms 042 10—8 4 0 Meadow Gold 000 01—1 3 3

The National Engineers built a 7-4 victory around the Hudson Hornets in the second tilt of the Industrial League as Norfleet took the credit for a win and Walker was tagged with a loss.

A Hornet rally fell short in the last frame. With the score 7-3, Darrah walked and then moved to second on a long fly; then scored on a double by Tucker. Richardson walked to bring up the tying run as Phillips drove a long fly deep in center, which was caught in a spectacular play by Don Streeter, to save the game for the Engineers.

The Hornets had held the upper hand for five innings after leading off with two runs and adding a tally in the fifth as the Engineers had only one run in the fourth. The sixth frame, however, brought four big Engineer runs to change the lead. The Engineers added two more in the seventh. Engineers 000 104 2—7 8 3 Hornets 000 010 1—4 8 5

The next Industrial tilt will be Monday at 7:30 as the Hamms' Beer club takes the field against the Knights of Columbus in a fight for first place, which Hamms' now hold by one game. The night cap will be a tilt between the Jolly Welders and Deaver's Devils at 9 p.m.

Crocker-Smith Lead 4-Ball Tournament

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—The red-hot team of Pay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, and pert Marilyn Smith of Wichita, Kas., today held a four-stroke lead over eight other duos moving into the second round of the $6,500 Hot Springs four-ball golf tournament over the Cascades Course.

Miss Crocker, the South American champion, and Miss Smith, collected a total of eight birdies—five by Miss Smith—in the opening 18-hole round yesterday to finish with a 67 over the 6,740-yard par 74 Cascades layout. They went over par only on the 400-yard par 4 14th hole.

Four strokes back at 71 were three other teams—Beverly Hanson, the ladies Professional Golf Assn. champion from Indio, Calif., and Mickey Wright of La Jolla, Calif.; Jackie Pung of Honolulu and Joyce Ziske of Milwaukee; and Betty Bush of Detroit and Pat O'Sullivan of Orange, Conn.

Two more 18-hole rounds are scheduled after today with the low team winning the top prize money of $1,450.

Miss Smith shot an even par 74 yesterday to take individual honors. Marlene Bauer had a 75 and Mrs. Pung fired a 76.

Local Bowlers Meet Saturday at C of C

There will be a meeting of all Sedalia Bowling League officers, both men and women's teams on Saturday night, 7:45 p.m., at the Chamber of Commerce. The purpose of this meeting is to plan a picnic in August; all bowlers are welcome to the meeting.

Golf's Greats Matched For PGA Title

DETROIT (AP)—Doug Ford, who hasn't won a golf tournament since last year, boasted medalist honors today in the tough PGA championship—but he wasn't celebrating. He knows today is "Black Friday."

At the Meadowbrook Country Club, this is the day the favorites and big name players fear the most: a day of two 18-hole rounds of match play in which the field of 64 will be chopped to 16.

Ford flashed a terrific display of golf in the 36-hole qualifying test with a near-record 67-68-135, six under par for the 6,701-yard, par-71 Meadowbrook layout. But he knows that only two medalists in the history of the PGA ever went on to take the title—Walter Hagen in 1926 and Byron Nelson in 1941.

The bugaboo of the two 18-hole rounds of match play also must be on the minds of Cary Middlecoff, Wally Burkemo, Tommy Bolt and Sammy Sneed. For when today's firing is over, two of these stars will be on the sidelines.

In the first round, Burkemo, a great match play competitor who won this title in 1953 and was runner-up last year, will meet Middlecoff, who is shooting some of the best golf of his life.

Bolt and Sneed are booked in another bracket so that if each wins in the morning they will clash in the afternoon.

Much of the pressure will be on Ford, the black-haired veteran from Kiamasha, N.Y. As medalist, he'll be the No. 1 target for the others—simply because everybody likes to beat a winner.

Moreover, Sneed and Middlecoff are just itching for a crack at Ford. Just when it appeared that the honor of medalist would be divided four ways yesterday, in zoomed Ford in the late afternoon haze, firing birdies on the last two holes to snout Sneed, Middlecoff, Skee Riegel and Ernie Ball.

A double by Enos Slaughter after a walk and a hit batsman produced one run and Elmer Valo singled home the other two.

The Sox bunched their runs off loser Bobby Shantz in the third. Billy Goodman singled and Billy Klaus' hit to center became a double as rookie Don Plarski misjudged it. A walk to Ted Williams filled the bases and a wild throw by Hector Lopez on Jackie Jensen's grounder allowed Goodman to score. Another run came as Norm Zauchin hit into a force out at second. A single by Sammy White and sacrifice fly by Jim Piersall brought in the last two Boston runs.

Phils Ride Ten Game Crest To Fourth Place In League

By ED WILKS

The Philadelphia Phillies, overlooked and overworked, have popped up in fourth place in the National League, riding a 10-game winning streak that has taken shape almost overnight.

It's all come about in seven days. Last Friday morning, the Phils were in seventh place. Today they're just one game shy of 500, and after skipping past Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago in the standings, are only two games behind third-place New York.

Manager Mayo Smith's club—which lost 13 straight in May, tops in the majors this season—scored three eighth-inning runs to beat Cincinnati 5-3 last night after the Redlegs gained a 3-2 lead on Gus Bell's three homers.

The Phils, lacking power and pitching depth, were brushed off as first-division threats at season's start. Yet they've had the hits when they needed them on the streak and have had seven complete games from the pitching staff, in spite of the heavy twin bill schedule. Robin Roberts and Murry Dickson have chipped in two full-length jobs each.

It was Ron Negray and reliever Jack Meyer who handled the Redlegs last night. Negray gave up Bell's home runs. But Meyer got Bell on a fly out with two men on to end the game.

Roy Smalley delivered the hitting punch with a bases-loaded single that scored two runs in the big eighth.

Chicago's Cubs dropped out of fourth place with a 4-1 defeat by Brooklyn. Milwaukee stayed 13½ games behind the Brooks by beating Pittsburgh 5-3. New York edged St. Louis 6-5.

In the American, Chicago chopped New York's lead to one game with a 9-6 victory over the Yankees; Cleveland went 10 innings to snap Washington's five-game streak 4-3; Boston dumped Kansas City to a 10th straight defeat 4-3, and Detroit nudged Baltimore 1-0.

The White Sox clinched the rubber game in their "crucial" series with New York as Bob Kennedy broke up a 6-6 tie with a two-run double in the eighth inning. Reliever Millard Howell scattered five Yank hits over the last six innings after giving up the tying runs in the third. Chicago, down 4-1 after one inning, chased Ed Ford and Tom Morgan with five runs in the second. Ed Lopat was the loser.

Boston used three hits and an

Odd Fellows Shutout In First Season Game

The Cole Camp softball club defeated the Sedalia Odd Fellows 28-0 in the first game of the season for the local aggregation Wednesday night.

The Odd Fellows had just recently organized the team and had not held too many practice sessions.

Budge Will Coach Davis Cup Team, Replaces Kramer

NEW YORK (AP)—Don Budge, one of America's all-time tennis greats, was named coach of the U.S. Davis Cup team today and Captain Bill Talbert announced he would assemble his forces formally the second week in August.

"That's when we'll start organized preparations," Talbert said. "Of course, we've been thinking about the cup and working on our plans right along but we'll get the team together as a unit right after the Eastern Grass Court finals at Orange, N.J., Aug. 7."

Budge, champion of the world in 1937 and 1938, will serve in the same capacity that Jack Kramer did in Australia last year. He will work out with the squad and assist Talbert in mapping strategy. Kramer, relieved of his duties as coach of the junior Davis Cup squad because of a controversial magazine article in which he said he received money as an amateur, probably will be frozen out of the Davis Cup preparations as well.

However, the U.S. tennis bosses may be spitting themselves in clinging to this pet peeve. Kramer is the best of the U.S. pros and performed valuable service with the squad at Sydney last December.

The American squad will be identical, as far as the top spots are concerned, with that which Talbert carried to Australia in 1953 and again in 1954, winning the trophy last year.

It will be headed by Wimbledon champion Tony Trabert, U.S. titleholder Vic Seixas and Hamilton Richardson, the perennial sub who has never played in the Challenge Round.

The fourth spot on the team is wide open and even Talbert acknowledged today he hadn't the faintest idea who might fill it.

"If one of the better veterans, Art Larsen or Herbie Flam, have a whale of a season then he'd have feature deals with James Stewart on Lindbergh, Doris Day on singing and Alfred Hitchcock on remakes.

This parlay came about because all three are working on Paramount's "The Man Who Knew Too Much." They have just returned from locations in Marrakech, Africa, and London, England—a three continent picture, this.

Stewart, in turn, had just returned from a goodwill trip to the Orient. He was asked if he will now stay put for a while.

"Nope," he replied. "As soon as I finish this movie, I go back to Paris for the Lindbergh picture."

Also to Ireland, Iceland and Greenland."

The much traveled Stewart is playing Charles Lindbergh in "the Spirit of St. Louis," and it is the result of a longstanding ambition on his part.

Next comes Doris Day. Her complaint: she doesn't sing enough. She does a mere three songs in "The Man Who Knew Too Much."

"I think I'll get a small combo and sing in a night club," she mused. "As a matter of fact, Jimmy Stewart and I may play Las Vegas and Reno together."

That may sound like an unlikely duo, but Doris declared they have already played one engagement.

"It was in Marrakech," she related, in the hotel lobby.

"Jimmy sat down at the piano and started playing a tune. Before you knew it, I was singing and he was playing for two hours."

What would Las Vegas bid for that act? Not enough, unfortunately.

Then there's Alfred Hitchcock, the semi-pudgy (he's been dieting)

High School Youths Invoke Amendment 5

ORLANDO, Fla. (P)—Five Orlando high school students invoked the Fifth Amendment when questioned about membership in high school fraternities which are illegal in Florida.

County Solicitor Richard H. Cooper said yesterday he subpoenaed the youths to testify on a possible connection between vandalism here and the fraternities, but each replied: "I refuse to testify on grounds it may tend to incriminate me."

major domo of the picture. It's a remake of the film he made in 1935, featuring Peter Lorre in his first English-speaking film.

"There's a certain danger in doing remakes," he remarked. "You run a risk if the first film has been successful and well known."

"But 'The Man Who Knew Too Much' was not seen a great deal in this country, except in art houses. We have brought it up to date, while leaving the basic plot the same."

After Third Airplane Crash, Becomes Leery

RICHMOND, Va. (P)—When Chief Metalsmith's Mate Joseph O'Connell, of Jacksonville, Fla., survived the crash landing of a Navy patrol bomber near here Wednesday it was the third time he had escaped injury in a plane crash.

Yesterday, the 36-year-old reservist asked the local Navy recruiting office for transportation home — by train. His request was granted.

Miss Sweden Is Favorite Contestant

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—An exotic Oriental, a statuesque Swede, a voluptuous Englishwoman, a blue-eyed Latin Marilyn Monroe and a Vermont Republican are favorites today to win the Miss Universe crown.

Fifteen international lovelies—each the potential winner—will parade for hours before a panel of judges tonight with a first elimination parring the group to five finalists.

The fifteen are the Misses Argentina, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Ceylon, El Salvador, England, Germany, Guatemala, Honduras, Japan, Norway, Sweden, United States and Venezuela.

A reporter asked all 15 in the group for their choice as winner. The answer was practically unanimous—Miss Sweden. She is Hillevi Rombin, a buxom, short-haired blonde who wears a bathing suit as if it was sprayed on her.

The girls know whereof they speak for Miss Sweden fits the pattern of previous Miss Universe winners. The judges, virtually the same year after year, lean toward the wholesome, milkmaid type of beauty.

However, the crowd pleasers in last night's preliminary judging were Miss Ceylon, 18-year-old Maureen Hingert—one of the most exciting Oriental entries yet; Miss El Salvador, Maribel Arrieta, who bears a striking resemblance to Marilyn Monroe; and Miss England, Margaret Rowe, who has the kind of shape the English dollar situation should be in.

Carlene King Johnson of Vermont is among the favorites by virtue of her choice as Miss U.S.A. Wednesday night.

Sleepers are Miss Japan, Keiko Takahashi, and Miss Honduras, Pastora Pagan Valenzuela. Miss Belgium, Nicole de Meyer, is another good long-shot bet.

Cathy Diggles, of Toronto—Miss Canada—measures 38 inches in the bust—a statistic that is better than an Oscar in Hollywood. Miss Guatemala—Maria del Rosario Molina—also is on the bosomy side.

ARRIVES HOME — A-1c Earl F. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Thomas Jr., 1430 West Main, arrived home July 9, from England, where he was stationed at Scholthorpe, near the north sea. He had been stationed there the past three years. Thomas enlisted in the Air Force July 2, 1931, and served one year in the states before being sent overseas. He received his discharge at Grandview Air Force Base, July 16.

Justice of Peace Convicted By Court

BATTLEBORO, Vt. (AP)—Manuel Miller, 47, justice of the peace, was convicted yesterday of two counts of "forcibly resisting" U.S. marshals May 3 when they went to his Bethel home under a court order to take his wife Lucille, 45, to a mental institution.

A federal jury of eight women and four men deliberated less than two hours.

Sentence was deferred by Judge Ernest W. Gibson until Aug. 8, the same day Mrs. Miller is scheduled to be sentenced for violating the federal draft law by counseling nine young men to evade military service.

Miller faced a maximum penalty on each count of 10 years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine. He was convicted of resisting with a rifle U.S. Marshal Dewey H. Perry and Deputy Marshal John H. Breen when they sought to carry out a court order.

Weekly Insect Report--

Spraying Has Been Increased But Grasshoppers Still Bad

By Stirling Kyd
Extension Entomologist
and George W. Thomas
Survey Entomologist

GRASSHOPPERS—Hoppers continue to be the big threat. There seems to have been considerable increase in spraying during the past week, and this will undoubtedly continue to increase as crop damage becomes heavier each day.

So far, very little disease has shown up among the hoppers. We have found some diseased hoppers in a few widely scattered fields, but have not seen enough in any community for disease to be a factor in reducing hopper numbers.

The one big factor which has kept crop damage relatively low for the number of hoppers in the state, is the adequate rainfall. There is an abundance of green foliage for the hoppers to feed on without moving into croplands. As pasture grasses go to seed and toughen up, however, there is an increase in movement to crops, with a resulting increase in damage. We are now to the point where we can expect crop damage to pick up materially during the next several weeks.

When spraying for hoppers, keep in mind it is virtually impossible to adequately protect a single field unless adjacent land which hoppers are moving out of, is sprayed at the same time.

CORN SAP BEETLES — We have gotten several inquiries about some small, black beetles which are being noticed on corn. These are corn sap beetles.

Almost invariably, these beetles become a problem only after some other insect causes damage. They are most commonly found in the ear, but rarely enter the ear until after corn earworms have opened it up. When the corn is in the milk, both the beetle grubs and adults may be found working the kernels.

These beetles also are sometimes found associated with corn borer damage, and with damage from earworms working in the whorl of the plant.

There's not much that can be done in the way of control. In stopping damage to the ears, best control is to treat for corn earworms, thus preventing the ear from being opened up for the sap beetle to work.

Watermelon For All

MINEOLA, Tex. (AP)—It was "hospitality by the slice" yesterday and 5,000 passing motorists took advantage of it.

That many slices of ice-cold watermelon were served free to travelers during Mineola's annual Watermelon Festival. Police and Boy Scouts flagged down travelers en route through this east Texas town until 30 tons of iced melons were gone.

Hearing Held For Talbott

Air Force Chief Offers To Disban Business Interests To Help Air Force

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force Talbott offered today to give up his outside business interests, if investigating senators think that would help the Air Force.

Talbott testified in a hearing, public at his request, after reports appeared that he sent out letters from the Pentagon drumming up business for his industrial engineering firm.

Talbott appeared before the Senate Investigations subcommittee in a hearing called after The New York Times had printed photographs of texts of letter from Talbott to businessmen.

The Mulligan firm does analyses of clerical costs, for a fee. The Times said that among the firms which granted Mulligan a contract was Avco Manufacturing Co., of New York, which is a big defense contractor.

Other Mulligan Employers
Other firms the paper listed as having hired Mulligan since Talbott became secretary included Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corp., Olin Industries, the Greyhound Corp., and Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co., Toledo. In every instance, the Times said, the files showed that Talbott wrote the company with a request for an appointment for Mulligan or his associates.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate subcommittee, denied the publication had anything to do with calling this afternoon's hearing, though there had been no sign of any such quick public session until the Times disclosures came out.

Asks For Public Hearing
Talbott this morning asked for a public hearing "as soon as possible, so that the public may have a complete understanding and the accurate information about this matter."

Talbott told the senators, when he took the stand, that it is "a shocking thing to point a finger of suspicion at a man who doesn't deserve it. I don't think I deserve it."

Talbott said that since going to the Pentagon he has had contacts with and has written to, officials of some of Mulligan's big clients, but that there was nothing improper about it.

Cereal Grains End With Higher Futures Thursday

CHICAGO, July 21 (AP)—Grains today gave their best performance of the week, all cereals closing higher in quite active dealings.

The market wasn't able to get through the day without recording at least one new seasonal low. It was in March oats and it came early at 64½. By the finish March oats were up to 68½-65.

Wheat closed 1½-4 higher, corn 1½-1½ higher, oats 1½-1½ higher, rye 1½ to 1 cent higher and soybeans 1 to 2½ higher.

Corn was the first grain to push ahead. That wasn't too surprising as the yellow grain had sunk to new seasonal lows in each of the three previous days this week.

Export houses bought corn, covering reported sales of the grain to Austria. In addition, there was short covering and some new speculative buying. Corn futures are about 23 cents lower than at this time last year.

One of the main factors in the firmness of wheat was the drying up of arrivals of cash grain at terminals accompanied by reports a smaller amount of the grain was being offered in the free market. Flour mills also were said to be buyers.

Lion's Club Endorses New Urban Plan

Hiway Commission Engineer Explains Project at Meeting

The Sedalia Urban Area Plan was given the endorsement of the Sedalia Lions Club at its noonday meeting Wednesday. The club, with one of the best attendances this year, heard Ernest L. Ackley, urban planning engineer for the Missouri State Highway Commission, explain the Sedalia project.

After his talk and the question and answer forum, the organization went on record with a unanimous endorsement, with the pledge to work for the coming $250,000 bond issue to be presented to the voters of Sedalia on Tuesday, Aug. 2.

Ackley, using various drawing descriptions of the planned project, explained the traffic movement and what the improvement will mean to all Sedalia. He also stated the cost was estimated at $2,380,000, with the right-of-way cost being approximately $339,000.

The speaker was introduced by Paul Schroeder, program chairman.

The annual Lions Club ice cream social has been set for Friday night, Aug. 12, to be held on the Mike O'Connor Chevrolet-Buick drive on West Fourth. Various committees were announced by Virgil Herrick, general chairman.

Joe Ruddick, chairman-producer of the Men's Beauty Revue, announced plans for the Fashions of 1955 to be presented this fall. He announced the steering committee composed of Bob Cain, Richard Goodheart, Russell Rhoads, Vice-President Jack Delph and himself will meet this Friday to discuss and lay plans for the affair.

Guests at the meeting were Barney Lefman, new manager of the Goodyear Store here of Wayne Miller, Leo Hirsch, Jefferson City, of Roy H. Kline, and Jack Faber, secretary-manager of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, of the club.

President John Ellison announced the following appointments of committee chairmen:

Advance publicity, Bert Robertson; agriculture, Milton Overstreet; benevolence, Richard Goodheart; blind and light bulb, A. B. (Please turn to Page 4, Col. 5)

Judging On Wednesday--

Achievement Day Ends Today With Presentation of Awards

Achievement Day for Pettis County 4-H Clubs ended at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the close of the program held in Smith-Cotton high school auditorium at which time awards were presented. The end of the program meant a scurrying to the high school cafeteria where the youngsters picked up their assorted articles on display and their ribbons, blue, red and white.

The exhibit by 4-H members was one of fascination to the many people who viewed it. The exhibit included work from the projects chosen by the boys and girls and included woodwork, clothing, home furnishings, food preservation, food ropework, native craft, scrapbooks and home service.

All day Wednesday the exhibits were judged by Miss Bernice McVeigh, Saline County home agent; Miss Elizabeth Suess, Henry County home agent; Mrs. Viola Smith, Moniteau County home agent; Mrs. Elizabeth Drake, former Benton County home agent; Miss Marilyn Anderson, apprentice home agent, University of Missouri; and Jack Jennings, Johnson County assistant county agent.

Ex-Clinton Man Dies In Marine Plane Crash

CHERRY POINT, N. C., July 21 (AP)—A Marine F3D Skyknight jet fighter plane burst into flames and crashed into a beet field near this Marine Corps air station today killing the pilot and a crew member.

Second Marine Air Wing headquarters identified the dead as Lt. Col. John E. Reynolds, 37, of Clinton, Mo. and Cpl. Anthony P. Mayo, 22, of Revere, Mass.

The station public information officer said several persons reported seeing the plane trailing flames as it nosed downward near Minnescott Beach, eight miles east of here. It was on routine training flight. The plane was attached to Marine all-weather training squadron 20.

Reynolds, a veteran of both World War II and the Korea conflict, came here only a month ago from the Marine air station at Quantico, Va. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mildred Frances Reynolds, and two small daughters who live at nearby Havelock. His mother, Mrs. Ada Reynolds of Clinton, also survives.

St. Louisian's Body Is Found In Trunk Of Car

LIVINGSTON, Ill., July 21 (AP)—The body of a St. Louis salesman was found in the trunk of an automobile today near this small town, about 35 miles northeast of St. Louis.

Papers on the body bore the name of Bobby Carr, who had been missing since Tuesday night. Carr had been shot to death.

It was the third time in less than a month that a body has been found in the St. Louis area in the trunk of a car.

Carl Reed, Carr's stepfather, said he last saw the salesman Tuesday night when Carr told him he was going to the horse races at Fairmount race track just across the Mississippi River from St. Louis in Illinois.

The Carr automobile was found on a side road a short distance off U. S. Highway 66.

J. Fred Koenig, an East St. Louis gambler, was found dead in his car in East St. Louis, Ill., last June 22. Last Saturday the body of Floyd Oestricher, a transport truck driver, was found in the trunk of his car in the southern part of St. Louis County.

Dr. Trader Dies Thursday At Bothwell

Was Well-Known Sedalia Physician For Past 43 Years

Dr. Charles Bell Trader, 85, prominent Sedalia physician for the past 43 years, who resided at 1717 West Third, died of a heart condition at the Bothwell Hospital at 8:50 o'clock Thursday evening. He had been in failing health for several years and retired from practicing about two years ago because of his condition. He had been confined to the hospital since Tuesday, July 5.

Dr. Charles Bell Trader

Dr. Trader was born July 14, 1870, in Sedalia, the son of the late and well known physician, Dr. John W. Trader, and Mrs. Matilda Hope Batterson Trader, of Danville, Ky. He was named for the distinguished English surgeon, Sir Charles Bell, who was host to his father while Dr. Trader was attending the World Medical Congress, as a delegate from the State of Missouri, held in London, England, in 1867. He was one of a family of eight children.

Dr. Trader graduated from the Kansas University Medical College in 1901. He married Miss Marion Tuck Batterson of Danville, Ky. in Memphis, Tenn., June 25, 1902. He was associated with Homer McWilliams of Kansas City until 1907, when he returned to Sedalia to take up the practice of medicine. He has resided in Sedalia since that time.

Mrs. Trader preceded her husband in death on April 29, 1942.

Surviving him are his daughter, Miss Frances Ware Trader of the family home on West Third. He is also survived by three brothers, George H. Trader, president of the Sedalia Democrat Co., 1220 South Barrett, Randolph Foster Trader of Kansas City, and Emmett E. Trader, of Corpus Christi, Tex., his two sisters, Mrs. Hattie Belle Fletcher, and Mrs. Clara Hope Schien, both of 614 South Kentucky.

Two brothers preceded him in death, Arthur Montgomery Trader and John W. Trader.

At the time of his death Dr. Trader was Division Surgeon for the Missouri Pacific Railroad having served with the Missouri Pacific since 1912. During this time he was in charge of the medical service rendered in the three major disasters which struck the railroad.

Monday afternoon Truman will be present to speak before Missourians in the grandstand preceding the initial Grand Circuit harness race, and he will also present a trophy to the winner.

Mayors of Missouri cities will be invited to attend the ham breakfast, enjoy the sociability, meet Truman and participate in the Fair day activities on Monday, Mayor's Day.

At the ham breakfast organizational meeting Wednesday night were the following. Champion Missouri ham growers—Hugo Alewell, Concordia; Morton Tuttle, Prairie Home; Carl A. Tising, California; Mitchell J. Tising, High Point; E. M. Burger, California; and W. H. Gardner, Rochepore; also Carpenter, Ewing, Mayor Julian H. Bagby, Cramer, Judge Monroe, Clyde Swafford, Carl Schrader, W. C. Askew, W. H. Ritzenthaler, Fair publicity director, Robert Kahn, fair concession superintendent, Mrs. Norman Scotten, cafeteria manager; K. U. Love and George H. Scruton.

Brucker Takes Office As Army's Civilian Chief At The Pentagon

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—Wilbur M. Brucker, former governor of Michigan, took office today as the Army's 61st civilian chief with prayer and a reading of Scriptures in the presence of the largest audience ever gathered for a swearing-in ceremony at the Pentagon.

Brucker took the oath flanked by Defense Secretary Wilson and retiring Army Secretary Robert Stevens. Invited friends, congressmen, officials and most of the Pentagon's corps of chauffeurs crowded the defense secretary's suite.

He had held at various times all offices in the Pettis County Medical Society. He was vice-president of the Missouri State Medical Society in 1925, and vice-president of the Missouri Pacific Medical Association composed of 600 doctors in 1934. He refused the presidency of both organizations because he said speech-making was not along his line. For seven years he served as secretary of the Bothwell Hospital staff and was instrumental in placing the new hospital on the accredited list of American Hospitals.

Seeks To Ease Fear Of War

PREMIER AND PRESIDENT—Premier Nikolai Bulganin and President Eisenhower appear to be chatting amiably during posing session for photographers in Geneva Switzerland where the heads of the Soviet Union, The United States, France and Britain are meeting in a conference designed to ease international tensions. The President and Bulganin met in a private luncheon Wednesday, but their conversation was not revealed. (AP Wirephoto).

Congress Leaders Back Ike Plan For Secrets Exchange

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—A number of congressional leaders today sprang to the support of President Eisenhower's proposal for an exchange of military blueprints.

There were some scattered objections from both Republicans and Democrats and even some of those applauding the idea seemed to think little would come of it.

Democratic leaders of the Senate and House warmly endorsed the President's plan, but Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican Senate leader, said he would "wait until the President returns here and makes his report to the nation on Geneva before I'll have something to say."

His counterpart in the house, minority Leader Martin of Massachusetts, said Eisenhower's proposal "could well be the first step in more cordial relations" and "it might be the step which would lead to peace."

Democratic leaders in both chambers said they had received advance word, along with the Republicans, that the President planned to make his dramatic offer at the Geneva Big Four meeting.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) of the Foreign Relations Committee said he had not been advised beforehand, however, and he expressed doubt that the Russians would accept.

"But it certainly should demonstrate to them and the world that the United States is planning no aggressive action against Russia," Aiken said.

News of the president's offer was quickly broadcast around the world by transmitters of the government's Voice of America.

Commenting on the proposal, Sen. George (D-Ga.), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said:

"We certainly have nothing to lose from the military viewpoint because we live in a fishbowl. This is manifestly so because matters in a free country cannot be kept secret, whatever their nature or character may be."

Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, summed up the views of many members when he said:

Held In October--

New Scout Program Planned For the Pettis District Scouts

A new boy-girl scout program, "Scouts in Action," will be held in Sedalia on Oct. 3. This will include all Cub Scouts, Brownies, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Senior Girl Scouts, Explorer Scouts, and their adult leaders.

"Scouts in Action" will be demonstrations of many phases of Scouting. Scouting skills will be the principal demonstrations. Each unit will have a booth in the arena at the State Fair Grounds in which to give its demonstration.

There will be entertainment for the public each half hour.

There are 1,800 registered scouts in Pettis District and it everyone participates "Scouts in Action" will be the biggest scout-wise event in the Pettis District.

Refreshment stands will be open in the entrances to the show. Admission is free to the public.

Units from Smithton and Green Ridge will also be in the program.

A meeting of the steering committee for the program was held in the Chamber of Commerce of Wednesday evening. The steering committee was composed of representatives of the girl scouts and from the boy scouts. However, each unit and leader will do the final choosing of their unit's demonstration of their participation in the event.

Attending the steering committee meeting were: Mrs. Lester Painter, Mrs. G. G. Hopkins, Mrs. Mary Houston, Joseph Funnell, Ad Schultz, Paul Antnes, Harry Nauget and Lou Linn.

Would Pinpoint Military Bases In US, Russia

GENEVA, July 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower offered today to pinpoint American military establishments and let them come under the eyes of Russian aerial inspection teams — in return for reciprocal action by the Russians.

This proposal that the world's two greatest powers exchange "a complete blueprint of military establishments" and ease the fear of war was made in a dramatic afternoon session of the summit conference.

US Sincerity In Disarmament

The President said he suggested the plan in order to convince everyone "of the great sincerity of the United States in approaching this problem of disarmament." His statement was directed straight at Russia. Eisenhower asked that this step of restoring mutual confidence between the two great nuclear weapon powers be taken immediately.

Conflicting accounts came out of the conference room on the Soviet reaction. White House press spokesman James Hagerty said the Russians listened, but made no comment. A French spokesman, however, quoted Soviet Premier Bulganin as saying:

"We have all been deeply moved by the very sincere declaration just made by President Eisenhower on what is probably the most important question before the conference."

Details Of Recommendation
Eisenhower's offer, in his own words, is:

"To give each other a complete blueprint of our military establishments, from beginning to end, from one end of our countries to the other; lay out the establishments and provide blueprints to each other."

"Next, to provide within our countries facilities for aerial photography to the other country—we to provide you the facilities within our country, ample facilities for aerial reconnaissance, where you can make all the pictures you choose and take them to your own country to study; you to provide exactly the same facilities for us and we to make these examinations, end by this step to convince the world that we are providing as between ourselves against the possibility of great surprise attack, thus lessening danger and relaxing tension. Likewise we will make more easily attainable a comprehensive and effective system of inspection and disarmament, because what I propose, I assure you, would be but a beginning."

Pushes US' Desire To Avoid War
While the President addressed Russia, it was clearly evident that he directed this statement to the whole world to convince doubting peoples of the United States' desire to avoid war.

First, he allowed the text of his declaration to be used openly by correspondents. Second, newsreel and television cameramen had been alerted in advance to be on hand where the core of the President's statement was to be read by Hagerty in the glare of lights at a news conference.

It was the major move of the day and perhaps the most gripping move of the conference, which is drawing rapidly toward a close. Eisenhower insists he must be home Sunday. That leaves at most only two more days for the leaders of the Big Four nations to adopt mutually, if they can, some program leading toward a relaxation of world tensions.

The foreign ministers debated through a rainy morning on how to reconcile, even a little, their clashing views on how to reunite Germany and provide an acceptable security system for Europe. They couldn't do it today. So they asked and received directions to try again tomorrow.

Miss Hutchinson Becomes Bride On 4th Of July

St. Andrew's Church in Tipton was the scene of a wedding July 4 at 8:30 in the evening when Miss Shirley Ann Hutchinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hutchinson, Fortuna, became the bride of Mr. Jerome Brondel, son of Mrs. Joe Schuster, Tipton. The double ring ceremony was performed by Reverend James Steidel before the altar decorated with gladioli. Rev. Steidel also read the nuptial mass which followed.

The bride wore a ballerina-length dress of white imported lace with very full circular skirt and fitted bodice. The short matching jacket had long sleeves which extended to a point over her hands. Her elbow length veil fell from a cap of sequins and pearls. She carried a nosegay of red roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Ruth Ann Schuster, wore a ballerina length dress of shrimp color, designed with net over satin skirt. The bodice and short sleeved jacket were of matching lace. Her headpiece was of matching net. She carried a nosegay of yellow roses.

Frank Kutenkuler was best man. Ushers were Sydney Dubbert, Skip Huff, Carl Schmidt and Frances Schollmeyer. David Wolf accompanied by Mrs. Oscar Schmidt at the organ sang, "To Thee, O Heart of Jesus," "Panis Angelicus," "Oh, Lord I Am Not Worthy," "Hail, Virgin of Virgins," and "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother."

A reception was held immediately after mass in St. Andrew's dining room which was decorated in red and white. The wedding cake, which was baked by the groom's mother, was decorated with red roses.

Misses Mildred Schuster, Ruth Embry and Marlene Eckler served the cake and punch. Mrs. Frank Kutenkuler had charge of the guest book.

A dinner was served to the wedding party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gates, Versailles, aunt and uncle of the bride.

After a short wedding trip the couple will live in Kansas City where the groom is employed as a printer at Hall's Greeting Card Co.

Surprise Party In Honor Of Anniversary

Mrs. Leonard Koehring, 645 East 13th, Sedalia, gave a surprise party for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Bailey, 1101 East 15th, in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary at 8 p.m. June 28.

The home was decorated with bouquets of day lilies, gladioli, carnations, daisies and roses. White paper wedding bells, tied with gold ribbon, hung from the overhead lights. In the dining room streamers ran from the overhead bells to the table on which the three-tiered wedding cake was placed. Instead of the traditional bride and groom, the cake was topped with the number "50." On the table around the cake was a band of miniature yellow roses and smilax.

Mrs. Bailey had a corsage of yellow rosebuds and Mr. Bailey a yellow rosebud boutonniere.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester T. Bailey, the former Mary Kester, were married in St. Joseph, June 28, 1905. For 41 years Mr. Bailey worked for the St. Joseph Water Co., retiring at the age of 65 years. In 1941 they moved from St. Joseph to Stover, and about four years ago they moved to their present address in Sedalia.

During the evening a program was given which gave a brief history of the Baileys' lives, and such old favorites as "Down by the Old Millstream," "Because," "If I Had My Way, Dear," and "Silver Threads Among the Gold" were either played or sung.

Refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Koehring, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blye, Freddie Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Petersen, Mrs. A. B. Scott, Mrs. Rachel Goltra, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Mawhorter, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Guinn, Mrs. E. R. Leeper, Miss Louise Leeper, Mr. and Mrs. George Welch, Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Wilkerson and Gary and Judy, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buchholz, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Brodersen, Ottaville; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eldenberg and Bob of Florence; and Mrs. Theresa Eldenberg and Mary Beth Carlock of Glendale, Oregon.

Miss Jane Darrah Exchanges Vows With B. C. Brinker In St. Louis

Miss Jane Marie Darrah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas Darrah, Sedalia, and Mr. Bernard C. Brinker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Brinker, St. Louis, were married at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, July 16, at St. Anthony's Church in St. Louis. The double ring ceremony was solemnized at a nuptial high mass by the Rev. Ethelbert Harms, O.F.M. Traditional wedding music was furnished by the church organist and choir.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of lavishly embroidered nylon net, fashioned with a long-waisted snug fitting bodice. The wide V neckline and the short sleeves were embroidered with scallops of the embroidery pattern, as were the five ruffled tiers which formed the very bouffant skirt. Each tier lengthened at the back forming the cathedral train which fell over skirts of net and bridal satin. Her elbow-length mitts were of embroidered net and her headpiece, a tiny bonnet of shirred tulle, dotted with seed pearls held her fingertip veil of imported nylon illusion. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white roses, stephanotis and two white orchids. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Miss Clarice Mettler, Sedalia, was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina-length dress of pale blue crystalatite with tight fitting bodice. The neckline was enhanced with fine pleating of chiffon forming a V in the back and continued down in a panel to the hem of the very full skirt. A tiny bow offset the waistline in back. Her cascade bouquet of shell pink asters was tied with white ribbon and in her hair she wore a matching laurel.

Mrs. Edward Peters, St. Louis, and Miss Sandra Buckley, Kansas City, were bridesmaids. They wore dresses and laurals identical to that of the maid of honor and their bouquets were tied with pink ribbon.

Mr. James Krull, St. Louis, served as best man, and groomsmen were Mr. Milton Larson and Mr. William Krull, both of St. Louis. Ushers were Mr. Norman Brinker and Mr. Thomas Darrah, Jr. The bride's mother wore a dress of powder blue lace and chiffon. Her corsage was a shell pink orchid. The groom's mother was attired in a dress of beige lace and her corsage was a bronze orchid.

Following the ceremony a breakfast was served at Bevo Mills to the wedding party and members of the immediate families.

From 2 until 4:30 p.m. a reception was held in the ballroom of the Kings-Way Hotel. Miss Irene Darrah was in charge of the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Brinker left for a wedding trip to California. After August 1 they will be at home at 4028 Hydraulic, St. Louis.

The bride attended Sacred Heart grade school and graduated from Rosati-Kain High School in St. Louis. She was formerly employed in the clerical department of Mar-Loc Co. and at one time worked in the advertising department of The Sedalia Democrat-Capital.

The groom recently graduated from Washington University School of Law and will practice in St. Louis.

On Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Brinker entertained with a rehearsal dinner for members of the wedding party and immediate families of the couple at their home, 4535 Tennessee Street, St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Bellmer, 530 East Fourth, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Jean, to Mr. Arthur Herbert Jenkins, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie W. Jenkins, 625 West Sixth. The wedding will take place August 14.

Beverly Lou Todd Becomes Bride In Formal Ceremony of G. Schultz

Miss Beverly Lou Todd and Mr. George Wesley Shultz were married at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, July 10, at the Church of the Open Bible. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. R. Lucky before a background of palms, pink and white gladioli and burning tapers in tall candelabra.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Todd, Clifton City, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Shultz, Pilot Grove.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Jean Anderson played "Clair de Lune," "Reverie" and "Dreams of Love." She accompanied Miss Gladys Reid as she sang "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" at the close of the ceremony.

The candles were lighted by Miss Sharon Kaye Todd, sister of the bride, and Peter Siegel, Jr. Miss Todd wore a white nylon dress and wrist corsage of blue carnations.

The bride was preceded to the altar by her maid of honor, Miss Glenda Blacklock, bridesmaid, Miss Sylvia Schupp, and brides dresses of blue organdy and headbands of white flowers. They carried bouquets of pink daisies.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz-length gown of white nylon over satin. A short-sleeved lace jacket was worn over the strapless lace bodice and the bouffant skirt was trimmed with rows of narrow nylon ruffles. Her fingertip veil fell in graceful folds from a small satin hat studded with pearls. Her lace mitts came to points over the hands. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. For something old the bride wore a gold wedding band which belonged to her great-great-grandmother.

Mr. John Shultz, brother of the groom, served as best man, Mr. Sam Harlen, Clifton City, was groomsmen and ushers were Mr. Jackie Barnes and Mr. Robert Stroup.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Todd chose a blue and white linen dress with white accessories. Mrs. Shultz, mother of the groom, wore a printed silk dress, and white accessories. Both mothers had corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held in the Community Hall in Clifton City following the ceremony. Arrangements of pink and white gladioli were used as decorations. The four-tiered wedding cake centered the linen covered table.

Miss Gladys Reid served the punch and Miss Jean Anderson cut and served the cake after the bride and groom had cut the first piece. Miss Vivian McMullin was in charge of the guest book.

After the reception, the couple left on a trip through Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia and North Carolina. For traveling, the bride wore a blue cotton dress, white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Civil War Era On Profit-Making Promoters Is Favorite

The Civil War period in our history is by far the favorite setting for historical novels. Older titles with a wide following have been legion. Thomas Dixon's "The Leopard's Spots," Stephen Crane's "Red Badge of Courage" and Irving Bacheller's "Eben Holden" were at the top of the list more than a generation ago. Each decade brings another crop. Gwen Bristow's "Handsome Road," Ellen Glasgow's "Battle Ground" and Ben Ames Williams' "House Divided" were enjoyed by many in the twenties and thirties but perhaps "Gone With the Wind" should be at the top of the list. This appeared in 1936 and is still one of the most popular Civil War stories.

The 1950s brought forth Harnet Kane's "Lady of Arlington," the story of Mrs. Robert E. Lee, Irving Stone's "Love Is Eternal" portraying Mrs. Lincoln, and Shirley Seifert's "Farewell My General" about Mrs. Jeb Stuart. Van Wyck Mason's "Proud New Flags," published in 1951, tells about the naval operations during the war while Noble's "Women with a Sword" recounts the skirmishes with Grant in the Mississippi Valley. Sandburg's "Remembrance Rock" gives a panoramic picture of the entire period.

"The Raiders" by William E. Wilson highlights the plight of the Western border states, divided in allegiance between the North and the South. While it does not come up to the earlier books just mentioned, this new novel deals thoughtfully with the problem of a mayor in a small Ohio town who has to decide how to treat a band of Confederate raiders.

Among recent authentic histories of the Civil War period are Jay Monaghan's "Civil War on the Western Border, 1854-1865." In the territory created by the Kansas-Nebraska Act of 1854, the hot blooded abolitionists and slave holders proved that nothing could be settled by an act of Congress. "Squatter sovereignty," fraudulent voting, and guerrilla warfare flourished while the political battle raged from Topeka to Washington. The book is extremely readable in spite of its scholarly documentation.

Boonslick Regional Library can provide these and other titles from the Civil War period. Sandburg's six-volume life of Lincoln and Freeman's life of Lee are available for those who want detailed accounts.

The Bookmobile schedule is: Tuesday, July 19, Striped College 9:00-9:30; Mosby 9:45-10:15; Leiter's 10:30-11:00; Quisenberry 11:30-12:00; Brown 1:00-1:30; Horace Breshears 145-2:00; Dresden 2:30-3:00.

Wednesday, July 20: Sunnyside 8:30-9:00; Beaman 9:10-9:40; Clifton City 9:50-10:30; Pleasant Green 10:45-11:15; C. M. Brumback's 11:30-12:00; Otterville 1:00-3:00.

Sedalian Loses Part of Foot In Train Mishap

In an attempt to catch a moving engine, James W. Curry, 24, 422 North Grand, lost the front third of his right foot. Curry, who is an agent-telegrapher for the Missouri-Pacific Railway, was attempting to catch a local freight to ride from the Knob Noster depot to the Sedalia Air Force Base.

Saturday about 9 a.m. Curry was apparently trying to catch a ride on Freight Number 93 to go to the Air Base where he checks the numbers on loaded and empty freight cars. As he reached to catch hold of the engine, he missed his grip, falling between the engine and the first car.

His right foot fell between the wheels of the engine and the first car and the wheel-trucks of the first car passed over it, practically severing it.

Curry was taken to the office of Dr. Groves in Knob Noster by H. W. Bennett, telegrapher-cashier in the depot. Dr. Groves administered first aid and the Saults-Baker ambulance was summoned to transfer him to Bothwell Hospital.

Dr. John Carlisle gave emergency surgery at the Bothwell Hospital and amputated the front third of his right foot. His condition is reported critical from shock and the loss of blood.

Curry was recently given honorable discharge from the Army and had come back to Sedalia to take up his job with the Missouri-Pacific, where he previously had been for some five or six years.

Club Gives Picnic In Honor Of Birthday

The LaMonte Friendship Club held a picnic Thursday in Knob Noster Park with seven members present and four visitors. Mrs. Lila Krehbiel of Columbia, Mrs. Clarence Carrol and Patricia Leroy Pummil and Robert DeHaven. Mrs. Hulda Stalkers was observing her 81st birthday.

Miss Rosenthal Gives Flute Performance

Willis Ann Rosenthal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Rosenthal, 1003 West Seventh, played a flute solo, "Valse-Caprice," Montbrun, at the Midwestern Music and Art camp at Lawrence, Kan., last Tuesday night. She performed in the advanced student's recital.

Advises Check With Chamber

The merchants and business firms of Sedalia always want to cooperate with organizations in the county such as PTA groups, church groups, lodges and clubs of all kinds, but they would like a little cooperation, too. When organizations are approached by any out-of-town people putting on money making projects call the Chamber of Commerce first. Harry Naugel, chairman of Better Business committee, advises, and check on the firm and what it has to offer.

There are many firms that go around trying to interest clubs on money making, schemes and except for the few dollars that they give to the clubs for doing the work all the money goes out of the county.

One of the projects on which clubs are very often approached is the cook book deal. Members of the club go to merchants and help sell the advertising for the cook book. The advertising is of really no value to the merchants, they just take it because a customer comes in with the stranger and asks him to buy it. The stranger, who does not sell it himself, he must have the person whose trade the merchants value. The money goes out of town except the small share the club gets and often this is a fraud concern and nobody gets anything.

Such a thing happened to a group in the county and the woman in charge was practically a nervous wreck before it was over. Thirteen months after she and her group had started the cook book project there were no cook books and no replies to her letters.

Five Concerts Arranged--Community Concert Board Approves Season Schedule

The executive board of the Sedalia Community Concert Association at its meeting Friday night at Hotel Bothwell approved the schedule of concerts for the coming season, which will open on Oct. 13, with David Lloyd, one of the most successful and popular tenors of today, and Maria Lloyd, his brilliant violinist wife.

On Nov. 25 Natalie Ryshna, beautiful young pianist, pupil of Olga Samaroff and Sascha Gorodnitzki and a graduate of the Juillard School will appear.

The third artist, who will be heard on Jan. 25, is Jan Rubes, hailed as Canada's greatest singer with orchestra, in opera, in recital, on television and on his own radio show.

The Angelaires, a captivating ensemble of five lovely young artists, the only harp quintet in the concert field, will be the fourth attraction, on Feb. 25. Their recital repertoire contains compositions ranging from Bach and Handel through Debussy to new interpretations of the songs of contemporary composers.

For the coming season, as a result of the increased membership, a fifth concert will be added. This will be the Tucson Arizona Boys' Chorus, with Eduardo Caso as Director. This group is famous abroad as well as in America, in concert, radio and television and in cowboy jeans or in concert dress, the boys are beguiling in their programs of classics, carols, folk songs, Mexican novelties and songs of the Southwest, sung with a superb blend of fine young voices and spiced, at the proper moments, with a little comedy.

The officers and directors of the Community Concert Association for the 1955-56 season are: president, Ralph Carrell; first vice-president, Gilbert V. Jones; second vice-president, Mrs. Ralph Carrell; secretary, Miss Esther Meisenheimer; and treasurer, Lloyd Knox.

Directors are: Mrs. E. F. Yan-

Two Get 25-Year Awards--Post Office Recognizes Postal Drivers for Safety

Safe driver awards to nine Sedalia Post Office vehicle operators were made Thursday by Maurice F. Hogan, postmaster. Twenty-five year safe driver awards were presented to Virgil L. Wighton and Glenn J. Kirkpatrick. Both men are rural carriers; Wighton has 36 years service on Sedalia rural routes, and Kirkpatrick has been a rural carrier for 41 years. One 18-year award went to A. C. Bell with 25 years rural carrier service. Louis V. Igo, rural carrier with 15 years service received a 15-year award. Six-year awards went to Champ Richardson and John Heisterberg. Richardson, a former city route carrier, has been a rural carrier since April 7, 1955, and Heisterberg has been on a parcel post delivery route for ten years.

City delivery carriers Fred B. Brummet, Billy Fockler and Special Delivery Messenger Paul Simon were recipients of four-year awards.

The National Safety Council's Safe Driver Award is the trademark of drivers who have proved their skill in avoiding preventable traffic accidents. It is an appropriate means of rewarding motor vehicle operators for their efforts in behalf of traffic safety. Fleet operators and drivers all over the nation know it and respect it, for it is given to experts only.

Safe driver awards are limited to professional drivers who daily operate a motor vehicle or whose job is dependent on the daily operation of a motor vehicle. Issuance of the award is controlled in order to protect its reputation and prestige. Rules for earning the award must be understood and applied in a consistent manner by each activity eligible to use the award.

At the direction of the Postmaster General, Arthur E. Summerfield, Safe Driver Training schools were established last year at all post offices where vehicle operators are necessary. Edward Brummet, foreman at the Sedalia post office is the Driver Training instructor. Classes for safe driver training are held regularly at the post office for all vehicle operators.

Postmaster General Summerfield has just recently announced that the driver training program is proving highly successful stating that available statistics reveal that 523 fewer accidents have taken place in the last quarter of 1954.

Supplement Each Other--Smithton Has Water System, Fire Truck as Improvements

Smithton has come a long way from the bucket-brigade fire prevention system just in the past few weeks.

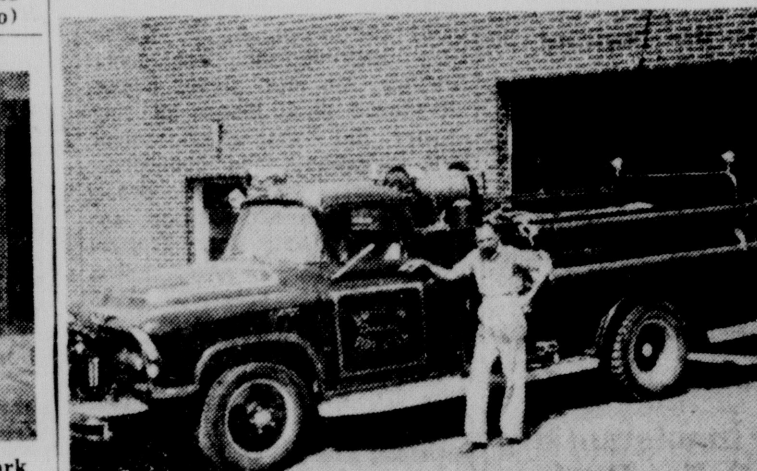

The community is now sporting a bright red fire truck, symbol of the community's efforts for a long time to provide local fire protection.

The truck cost approximately $95,000 and was purchased from the Central Fire Truck Corporation, St. Louis. It has a 500-gallon capacity.

Officially known as the Smithton Community Fire Association, Incorporated, the fire organization plans to have eventually 40 volunteer members.

Protection is secured by subscription. Residents living within the community are automatically given subscriptions by the town, and rural residents can purchase subscriptions with no limit to where they live.

The new fire chief is William Zahring, assisted by Leonard Semkin. The truck is kept in a garage behind the grocery store of Fireman E. A. Lemke. Lemke explained the alarm system as follows: "We'll just toot the whistle

Testimonial for Sedalia

Tragedy of Auto Accident

A nightmare of misfortune for a family enroute west for a vacation-business trip has been softened by what they term, "the overwhelming kindness of the people of Sedalia and the Bothwell Hospital staff."

On Wednesday morning, July 6, the Aid family, recently reunited for the trip, made local headlines when their station wagon collided with a truck near LaMonte during a heavy rain.

Critically injured were Kenneth Aid, 60, the father, George Aid, 16, his son and the car's driver. Also hurt were David Aid, 10; his cousin, Henry Parker, 14; Mrs. Olga Aid, the mother; and a daughter, Miss Patricia Aid, 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Aid had recently returned from an extended stay in Venezuela where Mr. Aid was district geologist for Sinclair Oil. They were joined by the children from the Chicago area where Pat is a teacher and the children are students. The trip started at Rolla from the home of Mrs. Aid's sister and family.

Mr. Aid, the most seriously injured, will be unable to leave the hospital for an indefinite duration, possibly a year, and the family wants to stay with him. Although he will be able to be moved in the near future, they stated they are so impressed with Sedalia's hospitality and the efficiency of the hospital, they wish to stay here.

"For example," Mrs. Aid said, "a man who passed by the scene of the accident came to the hospital with a stack of magazines and reading material for us. At the time of the accident people were so kind offering us raincoats and help."

"We are so impressed with the superior medical care we are getting we can't see any point to moving to another hospital," she continued. "So we are looking for a house or furnished apartment near the hospital so we can be near Ken."

Mrs. Aid said they would like to have three bedrooms but would settle for two if nothing else could be found. Then they will set up housekeeping here until Mr. Aid is finally dismissed.

Gordon Strain Plays For Park's Opening

The Marine Corps Recruit Depot Band will play for the flag-raising ceremonies at the July 17th opening of the gigantic "Disneyland" recreation park in Anaheim, Calif. near Los Angeles.

Approximately 5,000 guests, among them many state and national dignitaries, will attend the opening by special invitation. A color guard representing all the Armed Forces will raise the flag and the M.C.R.D. Band will play the National Anthem and National Emblem March.

The ceremonies will be televised to an expected audience of 60 million viewers on Sunday, July 17th. More than 26 television cameras will be focused on the band alone.

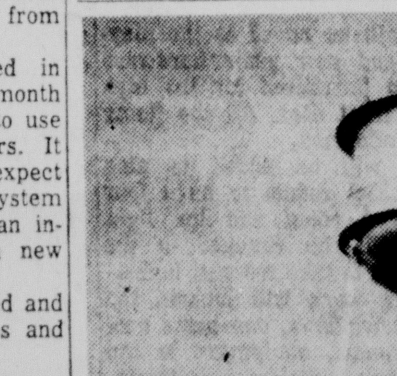

Pfc. Gordon Strain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon M. Strain, 1611 East Tenth, who is a member of the band, will participate in the activities.

"Disneyland" will be open to the public Monday, July 18. Its founder, Walt Disney, famous movie cartoonist, is a native Missourian

Carpenters Endorse Urban Area Plan

The Urban Highway Plan was endorsed at a special meeting of the Carpenter's Local Union No. 1792.

Election of officers was also held at that time, new officers are as follows: Clyde Blylock, president; E. E. Baugher, vice-president; James Farris, recording secretary; James Shaw, treasurer; Harry Moore, financial secretary; Lloyd Simons, warden; Charles Cramer, conductor; John Rundlett, Charlie Stuart, Maurice Estes, trustees.

Charles B. Evans

Charles B. Evans

Charles B. Evans, well-known Sedalia businessman, is now retiring after 30 years in the wholesale grocery business.

Herman Hershman of Hershey Wholesale Grocery, Kansas City, took Mr. and Mrs. Evans to dinner at the Bothwell Hotel Tuesday evening. They were surprised when a door to another dining room was opened to reveal managers from Central State Grocery in Kansas City, St. Joseph and Independence and the employees of the Sedalia house.

Hershman presented Evans with a gold wristwatch showing his appreciation for his services to the company for the past 30 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans received other beautifully wrapped and useful gifts from the other persons present.

In his talk to the employees, Hershman emphasized the great value of friends and friendship. He said even though Evans was retiring, he and Mrs. Evans would always be considered part of their grocery family.

Each one departing wished Mr. Evans health and happiness during his retirement.

Major Jack Reuter And Family Back From Service In Germany

Major Jack Reuter, Mrs. Reuter and their three children have arrived back in this country from Germany where he had been on assignment for the past 38 months.

They arrived in Sedalia Monday after a brief visit with Major Reuter's mother, Mrs. Robert Reuter of the Terry Hotel left for Urbana where they are visiting with Mrs. Reuter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Miller.

They will come back to Sedalia in a few days to visit with Mrs. Reuter and friends.

Major and Mrs. Reuter and their children, Jacqueline, 11, Robin, seven, and Reke Annette, two months, left Frankfurt, Germany, on Thursday, July 7 and arrived in New York City sixteen hours later. After reporting in this country for duty he was given a 30 day leave to come to Missouri to visit.

Major Reuter, who is in the U. S. Corps of Engineers will be stationed at Columbus, Ohio.

He entered the service in 1941 with the Missouri National Guards. At the time he entered the service he was a reporter for the Sedalia Capital.

Frenchmen Prefer Alcohol Over Milk-Drinking Program

PARIS — (NEA) — Alcohol is something, you can't make anonymous in France, even by trying to drown it in dairy products.

One by one, the 10 anti-alcoholic decrees that were voted last November are being annulled, until barely a hangover remains of the campaign best remembered by countless photos of former Premier Mendes-France quaffing beakers of milk.

Most recent to fail was the decree calling for an important increase in the cost of new licenses for wine dealers. It was a measure which eventually was to provide extra funds for social assistance, but it was unanimously tossed out by the Assembly.

As a matter of fact, although the Mendes-France regime appeared to the outside world to have fallen on the North African issue, the underlying factor was the antagonism of the alcohol interests, which are now back in control of the situation.

The government's rules had met with massive resistance on the part of the peasants. In the Orne and the Calvados (Normandy) home of moonshine applejack, 3,773 "itinerant" distillers broke the seals which civil servants had placed on their stills. At Paceda-Concepton, the population made a bonfire of the texts of the various decrees.

The greatest problem France has to solve is undoubtedly that of some 3,500,000 citizens who are entitled to make their own loosely-controlled "firewater," plus 500,000 dealers. These represent a bloc of voters who can cause governments to fall like ninetins.

Most thinking people realize, however, that in a country where everybody pays, through social insurance, the cost of other people's medical care, broken-up homes and degenerate youth, the fight against king-alcohol is as justified as preventive measures against tuberculosis, cancer, juvenile delinquency and other social plagues.

All agree that this is a battle which should be waged on the basis of extensive public education rather than repressive measures. Mendes-France made the mistake of clamping on restrictions while he tried to get Frenchmen to drink milk.

Tipton Fair Will Be Held July 27-30

The ninth annual Tipton Fair is being held next week, Wednesday through Saturday night, July 27-30.

On the opening afternoon, hogs and sheep will be shown and that night will be the cattle show in the arena. Riding clubs will exhibit on Thursday night and on Friday and Saturday nights there will be horse shows. A kiddies' pet parade will be held promptly at 7:30 o'clock preceding the Friday night horse show. Premium money on the horse show runs up to over $700, and the trophies are on display at the Tipton Farmers Bank.

The Tipton Fair is a member of the Missouri Horse Shows Association and its members include owners of some of the best gaited horses seen on exhibition in the state.

There will also be many awards given in the FFA and 4-H Club divisions along with the art hall which will include field products, vegetables, flowers, pantry stores, canned goods, woolens, cottons, and fine arts.

As has been his custom for many years, A. C. (Dorney) Yontz will give a hickory-smoked ham away free to the person attending the fair from the farthest distance.

Premiums are being given by the Montebau Mills, Inc., of California, on clothing made from their cloth.

There will be music by the high school band under the direction of John Gregory, and Mrs. George Langkop will also supply music on her electric organ.

On the midway again will be the Floyd O. Kile Shows of Baton Rouge, La.

Albert H. Wolf is president of the board of directors of the fair; Woodrow Newkirk is vice-president, and Toby Lademann is secretary and treasurer.

Other members of the board are George Toler, Ed Schmidt, W. R. Hudson, Paul Orscheln, Ed Hainen and E. N. Pizer.

Kansas City Salesman Hurt

Grant Arnold, 49, Kansas City, was severely injured about 7:20 p.m. Wednesday in an accident 13 miles north of Sedalia on U. S. Highway 65. A 1955 Buick hardtop coupe driven by Arnold and a house trailer being towed behind a pickup truck driven by James W. Hill, 25, Hot Springs, Ark., sideswiped Arnold, a representative of McKesson-Robbins Inc., liquor division, was enroute to Marshall from Sedalia where he had been calling upon local customers. He was headed north and going into a curve known as the Wall curve, and the pickup truck, a 1954 Chevrolet, was headed south pulling the house trailer which was reported to be 42 feet long.

The two sideswiped on the south end of the curve.

The Buick struck the left front corner of the trailer and the two vehicles ripped against each other on their left sides. The Buick came to stop on the north east end of the curve on the shoulder, while the truck and trailer stopped about thirty feet on south of the curve on the shoulder.

The entire left side of the Buick and left front end fender were smashed and the left side from just under the left side of the windshield back to the left rear fender was ripped away. The left side of the trailer had several large holes ripped into it.

A third automobile, a 1942 Ford sedan, driven by Conrad Samson 25, of Marshall was following behind the house trailer. As the two vehicles sideswiped some chrome was ripped away from both machines and a large piece went crashing into the windshield on the drivers side shattering the glass. Samson, however, luckily did not suffer any cuts from the flying glass.

Arnold was rushed to the Bothwell Hospital in the Ewing ambulance where Dr. T. J. Hopkins and Dr. D. C. Proctor, had x-rays taken and gave surgical treatment. Arnold had suffered a commu-

He received his pin for fifty years in the practice of medicine in April of 1951 at a banquet given by the Pettis County Medical Society. His only hobby was quail hunting which he enjoyed until four years ago.

Dr. Trader was a Mason, being a member of St. Omer Commandery No. 11 Knights Templar, Sedalia Chapter 18. Sedalia Council 42, and No. 236 A.F. and A.M. His grandfather, Rev. Moses Trader was presiding elder of the Methodist Episcopal Church and Dr. Trader was baptised in that faith, but attended the Broadway Presbyterian Church of this city of which Mrs. Trader was a member.

The body was taken to the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel. No funeral arrangements have been made pending word from relatives.

County Demos Prepare Fish Fry on Sunday

Pettis County Democrats are staging a big fish fry and rally at Liberty Park Sunday at which time 2,500 pounds of fish will be the top billing of the menu.

"Furthermore," W. C. Cramer, county chairman said, "it's all free to the visitors and no contributions are being sought."

The county committee hopes to start an annual summer affair here for the Democrats which will equal the Jefferson Day banquets held in Springfield in January of each year. The fish fry and rally will be somewhat different this year — no principal speakers, but various national state and county officials will be given an opportunity to speak for a "minute-or-two."

The political leaders are anticipating the announcement of several candidates for governor at the gathering, although several months in advance of the filing time for office next January.

Delegations from various sections of the state are expected to be present and exchange information and ideas for the 1956 campaign in Missouri. Already Chairman Cramer has been informed to expect large delegations from Kansas City, Jackson County, St. Louis, St. Louis County, Springfield, Joplin, St. Joseph, Hannibal, Moberly, Trenton, Columbia, Jefferson City and surrounding communities.

Charles Simon, in charge of the arrangements for the food, indicated there will be ample food on hand to serve at least 3,000 persons.

Miss Mary Ann Young Named to Honor Roll At Oklahoma College

Mary Ann Young, Sedalia, has been named to the Dean's Honor Roll at Oklahoma A&M college for the spring semester, an honor achieved by 1,591 Aggies.

To be listed among these outstanding students, the individual must carry at least 15 college hours and make a grade point of 3.0 or better (4.0 is "A"). Seventy-five on the list made straight A's.

Mary Ann was a junior in the school of arts and science the past semester.

Don Bellmer, ambulance driver for Ewing was aided at the scene by the Barry Ambulance Service of St. Joseph, which was enroute back to St. Joseph from a trip to Mt. Vernon, Mo.

The attendants who assisted were Tom Swafford, Lloyd "Hot Shot" Suthers and Gene Poage.

Arnold was taken to Research Hospital in Kansas City this morning.

Navy Crewmen Escape Safely From Landing

RICHMOND, Va. (P)—Ten Navy crewmen escaped safely yesterday when a twin-engine patrol bomber made an emergency landing in a farm field eight miles north of Richmond.

The plane, on a routine training flight from Jacksonville, Fla., to Washington, crash-landed when one engine caught fire and fell to the ground. The crew climbed out moments before the plane was destroyed by an explosion.

All of the crewmen were from Florida, including Aviation Machinist's Mate 3.C. Charles W. Schmehl, of Jacksonville, who was supposed to be celebrating his 30th birthday.

"But I didn't think I was going to get to celebrate it," said Schmehl of the narrow escape.

Pfc. Lawson Finishes Army Cooking Course

No Vacation for Staff--

While Students Get Break, Work Proceeds On Schedule

All the carpenter and plaster work is being done by the school crew. A guidance director was recently added to the high school staff to meet a requirement of the state. The teachers had not previously had their own lounge and rest room facilities.

Other improvements at the high school are the sanding of about 20 floors, painting of a classroom and walls in the cafeteria, touching up paint in the halls and sealing of the south side walls of the main building, furniture repairs, repairing of sashes, doors and window frames, a book truck for the senior library and many other minor repairs.

One of the dressiest improvements is the extension of a hedge-row on the west side of the building down to the steps of the Little Theater and replacing of several areas of concrete both on that side and at the building's main entrance.

Work on the cafeteria includes reupholstering the incinerator, sanding the worktables in the kitchen, and considerable painting of woodwork outside doors and some kitchen equipment where needed. The cornice on the front of the building will be repaired and faulty bricks in the incinerator are being replaced.

Horace Mann

Horace Mann and Whittier have received some blacktopping improvements on their playgrounds. At Horace Mann both the front and back playyards have been blacktopped by Atkinson Construction Co. Several small areas at Whittier have been given this treatment.

Also at Horace Mann the following improvements have or are being made: Fresh air vent in the north boiler room window; tile down the spout from the north-west corner of the old building and northeast corner of the auditorium to the alley; a canopy over the stove in the lunch room with an electric exhaust fan; $435 worth of repairs in eight old classrooms and paint for the walls; lines to be added on the gym floor; removing three north trees on the west side of the gym; refinishing the gym floor; waxing all floors and replacing window shades as needed.

Hubbard School

Hubbard School is getting a new incinerator, repairs to the gymnasium floor which Dr. Hunt reports will need replacing before too long, and extensive painting work.

Chaf will be added to the playground and new picnic hardware has been purchased for the high school's front door. All the floors will be refinished.

Lights will be added to nine grade school rooms to have four lights to a room and the light fixtures will be changed in the high school to take 200-watt bulbs.

Painting work will include the basement windows, two home economics rooms, equipment in the lunch room kitchen, radiators, cafeteria floor and the old auditorium.

Jefferson School

An incinerator will also be built at Jefferson School. Some base-board repairing is planned as well as toilet facilities. Handles will be replaced as needed on radiators.

Guttering on the north side of the building will be repaired and the lunch room will be painted. Coat racks will be tightened and missing hooks will be replaced. The floors will be scrubbed and waxed.

An exhaust fan is planned for the lunch room. A case will be built for 25 music racks and two piano benches will be constructed.

Mark Twain School

Work at Mark Twain School includes building a new incinerator and refinishing the floors. An electrical outlet will be installed in Room 11. A cabinet will be built on the east wall of the art room.

DRESS-UP FOR CAFETERIA—The Smith-Cotton High School Cafeteria is having a number of minor repairs done to it, but an added touch purely for decorative value is this hedge.

Queried On Find Of Girl's Body In Hidden Grave

WEAVERVILLE, Calif., July 21 (P)—A trail University of California student was questioned closely today about a young girl whose body was found in a shallow grave hidden in thick brush near Deadman's Cabin.

Officers said they were almost positive the body was that of Stephanie Bryan, 14, who vanished April 28 while on her way home from school in Berkeley, site of the university.

The body bore evidence the girl had been gagged. An autopsy was ordered to determine the cause of death.

The student, Burton Abbott, 27, who contracted tuberculosis during 14 months service in the Army, told police at Berkeley he spent the night of April 28 at the remote cabin which derives its name from a murder committed there in 1948. Abbott denied killing the girl.

"It looks bad for me but I didn't do it," he said.

Abbott was arrested after bloodhounds, released in the area on a newsman's hunch, led searches last night to the grave some 200 yards from the cabin.

He had been under questioning since last Friday when his wife found Stephanie's pocketbook in the basement of the Abbott's Alameda home. The Abbotts notified police.

Dieting? Make sure you include milk, meat, eggs, fruits and vegetables in your diet every day. These foods offer such valuable nutrients that it does not pay to slight them. The milk may be skimmed, of course.
